

EMPEROR'S ILLNESS DELAYS NEGOTIATION

No Instructions Have Been Received at Jap Embassy Regarding Alien Law

LAW EFFECTIVE AUGUST

No Legal Proceedings Can Be Started Until After Law Be- comes Effective August 10

JAPAN SOCIETY BANQUETS

WASHINGTON, MAY 23.—Probably as a result of the anxiety in official circles in Japan over the condition of the emperor no instructions have been received at the Japanese embassy to make the expected representations to the United States government regarding the California alien land law. The embassy is engaged in collecting material for the continuance of the negotiations on the lines indicated in the original Japanese note of protest May 9. This matter relates principally to the phase of the negotiations touching the possible conflict between the California state law and the treaty leaving to the foreign office the broader questions of policy. Legal proceedings of some sort seem to be indicated both parties desiring to use that means of settlement of the issue and the Japanese apparently hinges upon which side falls the responsibility for making this test.

The new law will not go into effect until August 10th, before which date it would not be possible to bring suit and for that reason the negotiations appear to be losing some of the features of urgency that characterized the early stages.

Moving Picture Condemned.
Seattle, Wash., May 23.—A moving picture drama illustrating the "War of 1920 between Japan and the United States" and introducing Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson as participants, which had been extensively advertised at one of the principal theaters here was forbidden to be shown after the local board of censors had seen the film. It is said to have represented the Japanese in an unfavorable light and the city officers took the view that it would stir up race feeling.

Japan Society Meets.
New York, May 23.—Expressions of good will between the United States and Japan and hopes of continued friendly relations were voiced by speakers today at a luncheon given by the Japan society to George W. Gahrie of Pittsburgh, newly appointed ambassador to Japan. Toasts to the Japanese emperor and the president of the United States were drunk in "grape juice."

Lloyd C. Griscom acted as toastmaster. Among the speakers was Prof. T. Iyemaga of the University of Chicago.

"I confess that to speak out frankly and open heartedly, I cannot be counted among the Japanese virtues," he said. "But I have been privileged to live long enough in America so that I have learned to emulate, in a measure, the American virtue of frankness. The development of events since the alien land act has become a law in California shows that they are drifting to the point apprehended by President Wilson and other far-seeing statesmen. A local affair of no great importance is thus in danger of being raised to the dignity of what is called a world problem, which in its magnitude is out of all proportion to the material and economic interests involved."

Race Question Cause.
The root of the California legislation Prof. Iyemaga thought was the race question. He continued: "There is not the least doubt that procedure of California has stirred deeply the hearts of the Japanese people. The blow is the more keenly felt because it comes from the Americans upon whose friendship and good will they have implicitly relied. America introduced Japan to the world and thus opened the way for her remarkable career during the last half century. When Japan was struggling hard to break off the yoke of old treaties, concluded when diplomacy was an unknown science, America was among the first to recognize the justice of her contention. When we fought Russia America gave us her moral and financial support. To crown all, America first affixed seal to the treaty which gave us tariff autonomy and full recognition of our equality with the great powers."

"What we ask for now is not soothing words, but the substance of justice. I have, therefore, every reason to believe that President Wilson will not cease his labors until an adjustment satisfactory to the Japanese people is made. To the new American ambassador to the mikado's court I beg to express my ardent hope that he will find, after the present dispute is over, the truth of the Japanese proverb—after rain the ground solidifies harder."

Ambassador Guthrie in his address referred to the illness of the emperor of Japan and expressed a hope for his speedy recovery. The ambassador's remarks had chiefly to do with the extension of America's trade abroad.

Passes Favorable Night.
Tokio, May 24.—A bulletin issued this (Saturday) morning announced that the temperature of the emperor was 99.2 degrees. His pulse was 76 and respiration 26. Government officials say the emperor passed a favorable night, that his condition this morning is satisfactory and there is no cause for anxiety. A ministerial order issued to day authorized the re-opening of theatres and other places of entertainment.

Urge Alliance With Japan.
London, May 23.—The powerful English organs appear to be just awakening to the possibilities of the alliance between Great Britain and Japan and to the sentiment which the British colonies would hold in event of war between Japan and the United States.

"The prospect of a war in which Great Britain would be fighting for a principle that is an anathema to her own dominions," the Spectator says, "is causing much anxiety throughout the British empire."

Although it believes the possibility of war breaking out, or of Great Britain being a party to it through her alliance with Japan, to be vague, the Spectator declares:

"We doubt whether the empire could survive such an outrage to the feelings of a large and important part of its white population."

The Saturday Review urges Great Britain to stand by the alliance with Japan, "because America is working for supremacy in the Pacific on lines that are unfriendly both to Great Britain and Japan."

Steam Pipe Bursts During Speed Test—No One Blamed For Accident.
San Diego, Cal., May 23.—Richard Curtis Smith, officer and H. F. Bock chief machinist, mate, are dead and Alma Miller, officer, who risked his life in an attempt to save Bock is in a dying condition tonight as the result of an explosion on the United States torpedo boat destroyer Stewart today.

The accident occurred 28 miles off port during a speed test when a steam pipe in the engine room blew out. The engines were turning 200 revolutions a minute and the destroyer was rushing through the water at the rate of 25 1-2 knots an hour. The steward is the fastest of the flotilla.

Miller had a brother living at Idaho Falls, Idaho. Smith's home was at Lodi, Texas, and Bock lived at Moline, Ill. Bock had just re-enlisted in the navy and had arranged to leave tomorrow on a four months furlough for a visit with his mother and sisters in Illinois.

Captain M. G. Shoner says the accident was one for which no one could be blamed.

DANIELS DEFENDS PURPOSES OF UNITED STATES NAVY

Secretary Stands For Navy For Defense and Protection But Not For Conquest.

Washington, D. C., May 23.—In a defense of the purposes of the American navy at a dinner given here tonight in his honor, Secretary Joseph Daniels declared that "the only menace to our peace today is due to the buying of colonies in the east, the people of which did not come to us of their own free will."

The secretary declared he stood for a navy for defense, a navy for protection, but never a navy for conquest. The only use of the navy, he said, was the same use that the public has for a policeman and a navy should never be made strong as a menace.

Among the other speakers was Secretary Bryan, who said:

"I am glad to have Mr. Daniels at the head of a department which has for its purposes protection but which I hope it never will have occasion to be made use of. I think it is all right to have some ships, some army, but I would not like to have at the head a man who is not only prepared but burning to test his guns on living targets."

AUGUSTANA AND CARTHAGE ADMITTED TO MEMBERSHIP

Will Take Part in Track Meet Today on Bradley Field of Illinois Inter-collegiate Association.

Peoria, May 23.—Augustana college of Rock Island and Carthage college of Carthage were admitted to membership in the Illinois Intercollegiate Association at the annual meeting of the association held here tonight, preceding the track meet tomorrow afternoon on Bradley field.

In the intercollegiate tennis play today Bradley defeated Hedding in the students singles, while McKendree defeated Eureka. In the students' doubles Lincoln college defeated Normal university, Hedding defeated Eureka. Millikin university defeated Hedding college in the faculty singles, while Bradley was victorious over Millikin in the doubles.

ABANDONS COMPULSORY MEETINGS.
Washington, May 23.—Thomas P. Kane, acting controller of the currency to day abandoned compulsory annual meetings of national bank examiners at their own expense. Mr. Kane took the ground that it was a hardship to force examiners to go to such meetings in many cases involving an outlay of several hundred dollars with no compensating results.

WILL CONSIDER PLANS TO REORGANIZE PARTY

Will Discuss Advisability of Calling Early Meeting of Rep. Nat'l Committee

AGITATION PREMATURE

Some Republican Leaders Think Time Not Ripe for Reorgan- ization Convention

OPPOSE 1913 CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, MAY 23.—The Republican National executive committee which will meet here tomorrow at the call of Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the National committee, primarily will consider the advisability of calling an early meeting of the national committee to consider plans for strengthening the party lines, preparatory to the next congressional campaign.

Before determining to call the committee together it will be decided whether the time is ripe for the beginning of organization for the future or whether it might be better to wait until the present Democratic administration has proceeded farther on its way, until after the opposition tariff law has been written into the statutes and it effect upon the country analyzed. Some of the party leaders are firmly of the mind that agitation for a reorganization of the national committee is premature and would be chiefly to consider the advisability of such a convention that the national committee would meet.

The Progressive Republicans' view is no reorganization of the party, changes in delegate representations, methods of handling contests and other matters. The letter will be sent to the executive committee addressed to National Chairman Hilles and the members of the conciliation committee expect that they may be called upon to appear before the committee further to explain their views.

Many Oppose Convention.
Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire who smilingly admitted to day that he belonged to the so-called reactionaries in discussing the urgent demand of the Progressives for a national convention declared that when the time came for reorganization the Republican party would reorganize itself. Senator Smoot was of the same mind and there are other party leaders in and out of congress who will oppose a national convention this year.

"Some of the members of the National executive committee are in Washington and others will arrive early tomorrow with Chairman Hilles. None here issued indicate what might be done with respect to calling the national committee. Some favor the proposal, believing that all the questions now agitating the party had been discussed at this time. Some of these however, do not favor a national convention this year. Senator Cummins expressed the belief tonight that the national committee would be called. He was unwilling to predict its action, however, regarding a party convention."

Members Arrive.
Among the members of the executive committee who reached here tonight were John T. Adams, Iowa; Fred W. Estabrook, New Hampshire; J. P. Goodrich, Indiana; Alvah H. Martin, Virginia; Thomas Knedringhaus, Missouri and Roy O. West of Illinois.

William B. McKinley former chairman of the Republican congressional committee and Manager of the Taft campaign in 1908, also on the list. He said tonight he was in thorough sympathy with the plan of the Republican senators for a joint caucus of senate and house Republicans to reorganize the congressional committee and to include senators in its membership since they are to be elected by the people in the future.

Mr. McKinley issued a formal statement declaring that he considered the readjustment of representation from the solid Democratic south in the Republican national convention a matter of the greatest importance to the future of the party. He said if the national committee decided it lacked the power to adjust this question he favored holding a convention for the purpose.

DISPOSES OF APPEALS.
Washington, May 23.—President Wilson today disposed of twenty-eight appeals for clemency, restoring civil rights in thirteen cases, granting two pardons, commuting seven sentences and denying six applications. Among the cases was that of Tom Russell, a 19 year old lad, a first offender, sentenced at Davenport, Ia., Oct. 2, 1912, to ten months in prison for selling liquor without paying the special tax. He was ordered released at once because the president was impressed with the sincerity of his promises to redeem himself.

CALHOUN DENOUNCES PRESIDENT'S POLICY

SCORES ATTITUDE TOWARD "DOLLAR DIPLOMACY" AND CHINESE LOAN

CHICAGO, MAY 23.—William J. Calhoun, retiring minister to China, in a speech here tonight described President Wilson's attitude toward "dollar diplomacy" and proposed Chinese loan as "a lost opportunity."

Former Minister to China Declares Participation in That Loan Offered Great Chance for Trade Expansion in the Far Pacific.

"In the latter part of August I was asked to go to a great prince to discuss a currency question," he said. "The Chinese have no standard. They wanted to borrow $50,000,000 from American capitalists. I presented their request to New York bankers and it was granted, it being the first time American capital had come in contact with that government's interest. I was notified at Peking that securities would not be listed unless the American banks were made equal with the banks of other countries and this was finally done."

"The combination was forced by the financial necessity of the situation, which was signed but was never carried out because the revolution upset it. There is much said about 'dollar diplomacy.' I don't know what that is, but we are forging along into a more economical development of trade. There is no place where the struggle for trade is more pronounced than in China and we Americans have had no part in this great development."

"What are we building the Panama canal for? Simply to allow the ships of the world to go and come while we sit idle and peacefully? I believe that a nation moves by instinct more than by design and that the Panama Canal, Philippine Islands, Hawaiian Islands and other of our possessions came by instinct rather than by design. There is opportunity for trade expansion on the great Pacific and we are missing it for that trade."

"England, Germany and Japan are the active nations in the Orient and if we have no support there we must withdraw. We had the great opportunity of development and lost that opportunity. Our country has its part to play in the game of the world. I believe it is not good policy for us to sit idly by and let other go-ahead nations move."

"We talk about an open door but what the good of an open door if we do not take advantage of it?" "China is friendly to us but she is not in a position to be much more. She applied for help. Others gave it; we did not. They have claims on China, we have none."

CLAIM WORK OF WAITRESS BEST EMPLOYMENT FOR GIRL

Missouri Senate Wage Investigation Committee Takes Evidence Regarding Shop Conditions.

St. Louis, Mo., May 23.—That the work of a waitress is the best employment for a girl, that the low wages paid to domestics in the rural districts is one reason why country girls seek employment in the city and that the girls in steam laundries work in such intense heat that they often faint at their work, was testified today before the Missouri senate wage investigation committee. The testimony as to the relative desirability of work in a restaurant for a woman was given by a girl waitress who said she was paid $7 a week and that her tips average a dollar a day.

An amiable looking little girl testified that she worked in a store for $3 a week, all of which she paid for food and clothing. She said she had been along similar lines of others testified.

The committee probably will hold hearings in Kansas City beginning June 1st.

FOR ERECTION OF STATUES.
New York, May 23.—Plans for the erection of a statue of Queen Victoria in Washington, the presentation of a statue of Abraham Lincoln to the British people and the holding of a historical costume ball, all in connection with the celebration in 1914-1915 of one hundred years of peace among English-speaking races, were worked out at a meeting today of American committeemen in charge of preparations for the event.

It was given out that the statue of Queen Victoria will be erected under the direction of a committee of women, whose names will be announced later.

The movement to present a statue of Abraham Lincoln to the British people was inspired partly by the admiration which the British delegates who recently visited this country expressed for a statue of Lincoln in Chicago.

HARVARD PROFESSOR DIES.
Madison, Wis., May 23.—Francis Thompson Harvard, associate professor of mining and metallurgy at the University of Wisconsin, died today of pneumonia, aged 35 years. He was a graduate of the Friedberg Royal School of Mines, Germany. He came to Wisconsin in 1902.

SENATORS DISCUSS WOOL AND SUGAR

Walsh of Montana May Join Louisiana Senators and Vote Against Bill

WOULD MEAN TIE VOTE

Vote on Tariff Bill Would Then Be Tied and Would Need Mar- shall's Vote to Pass It

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD CAUCUS

WASHINGTON, MAY 23.—Wool and sugar, the stumbling blocks of the tariff, held the attention of the senate finance sub-committees and senators in general today, the legislative air being filled with rumors of contemplated changes and alliances and counter rumors of further tightening of the administration forces for free wool and free sugar in three years.

Great interest was attached to a public statement made by Senator Walsh of Montana condemning the proposition to put wool and sugar on the free list which gave rise to a report that he might join with Senators Ransdell and Thornton of Louisiana and vote against the bill. In that case the senate Democratic majority being only six the vote on the tariff bill would be a tie, necessitating the vote of Vice-president Marshall to pass it.

This development there are some Democrats who believe that Senator Poindeux of Washington, the only avowed Progressive in the senate will vote with them on the bill. This would give free-way for another Democrat to desert in the final vote. Administration leaders declared today that the situation relating to the much disputed schedules looked favorable for the Underwood bill, but they look forward to an interesting session in the party—the caucus when the southern and western representatives will have an opportunity to make a determined struggle against free wool and free sugar.

A rumor that several of them would unite to remain out of the caucus was denied by party leaders. William Whitman, always a leader of the woolen interests in tariff consideration had an interesting hour with Senator Stone's sub-committee, attacking the woolen manufacturers' market as soon as the American manufacturers were thirty per cent less than the rates in the Wilson tariff act, which, he said, was supposed to be a free trade bill. Senator James urged that economic conditions in production justified a difference of 30 per cent at this time as compared to conditions when the Wilson law was enacted.

Might Be Beneficial.
Asked if free raw wool would not prove beneficial to his interests, Mr. Whitman said it might eventually. At present he said his company had on hand a large supply of raw wool bought under tariff rates and that he would be at disadvantage in working this off while other manufacturers were buying and manufacturing with wool on a free duty basis. He declared that foreign amounts of woolen goods stacked away ready to put on the American market as soon as the proposed bill becomes a law.

Julius Forstmann of Passaic, N. J., now appealed for an extension of the time when the wool schedule shall become effective. Henry T. Oxnard, recognized as the head of the delegation representing the beet sugar interest appeared before Senator William's sub-committee to protest against the proposed sugar schedule.

Death of Sugar Industry.
He presented the case of the beet sugar men at length maintaining that free sugar would be a blow to the industry in this country.

An important change in the bill as it passed the house, it was reliably reported today, has been made by Senator Stone's committee in the metal schedule. They are declared to have decided to put pig-iron and ferro manganese on the free list. The Underwood bill levies a ten per cent duty on pig-iron and ten per cent on ferro manganese used in the manufacture of steel. An argument over these rates developed in the house, majority leader Underwood and Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania, maintaining that they should not be free listed because they were a good source of revenue. The senate sub-committee is said to have reversed this decision, maintaining that they both are products of the United States steel corporation and raw material for the independent steel manufacturer and should be on the free list for that reason.

Opposes Amendment.
B. A. Levitt of the New York Merchants association and S. Christy Mead of the New York Merchants exchange, appeared before Senator Williams' sub-committee in opposition to the amendment suggested by Assistant Attorney General Denison and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curtis which would give the secretary of the treasury power to proclaim general import values.

EVIDENCE OF CHECKS INTRODUCED IN TRIAL

ARE TRACED TO THE OFFICES OF AMERICAN WOOLEN CO.

BOSTON, MAY 23.—Two checks, one of which was in payment of "expenses incurred during strike at Lawrence," were traced to the offices of the American Woolen company at the dynamite conspiracy trial today.

The checks were issued up on the authority of President William M. Wood of the company and were payable to Frederick E. Atteaux, a dynamite manufacturer, who with Wood and Dennis J. Collins, are charged with conspiring to "plant dynamite" at Lawrence, during the industrial trouble of 1912.

It was a check for $505 issued March 22, 1912, the voucher for which explained that the payment was for expenses incurred during the strike. The voucher corresponding with a second check issued June 26th, 1912, for $2,100 showed that it was a consideration "in full for all claims and demands to date."

The $505 check was signed by W. A. Currier, assistant treasurer of the woolen company and the $2,100 check bore the signature of William H. Dwyer, Jr., treasurer of the company. Both vouchers were marked "approved, William M. Wood, president."

Treasurer Dwyer, who was called as a government witness testified that the check signed by him was issued at the direction of Wood. He said that Atteaux had volunteered his services to President Wood to help arrange a settlement of the strike. The examination of Mr. Dwyer occupied the greater part of the day and he will be heard again when the trial is resumed Monday. In admitting the checks and vouchers as evidence Judge Crosby ruled that they would not be competent unless other evidence should be admitted later connecting the documents directly with the alleged conspiracy.

These papers furnished the first evidence introduced during the five days of the trial that connected Wood with the case and marked the fourth stage in the government's endeavor to show that the three defendants conspired with John J. Breen, a Lawrence undertaker and Ernest W. Pitman, a building contractor who killed himself on the day the grand jury began its probe to place the explosive so as to prejudice the cause of the strikers.

Collins and Breen have testified that they "planted" the dynamite; Breen has said that Atteaux paid for the work and that Pitman furnished the dynamite; and William H. Ryce, a quarry owner, has corroborated Breen's story of Pitman's connection with the alleged plot.

BECOMING MORE DEMOCRATIC.
St. Louis, Mo., May 23.—Harvard university is becoming more Democratic, President Abbott Lawrence Lowell said today in speaking to 300 members of the Associated Harvard clubs at the seventeenth annual convention.

"The Democratic spirit which we have all wanted to see more prevalent at Harvard and the lack of which has been a cause of criticism, is growing into an actual fact," he said.

Plans for fifty new Harvard scholarships to be given by Harvard clubs were reported by J. D. Phillips of Boston and adopted by the associated clubs. These scholarships will furnish their holders' money for tuition and expenses for a year or longer.

DENOUNCES RECALL OF JUDGES
New Haven, Conn., May 23.—The recall of judicial decisions and of judges was denounced by Professor William H. Taft in a lecture at Yale today as "hair trigger to the bottom," and as an instrumentality giving great power to bosses and the unscrupulous press.

The recall of the former president said, was "inimical to justice, because under this legalized terrorism independent action of the judiciary would be impossible."

Mr. Taft advocated increases ranging from four to five thousand dollars in the salaries of the justices of the supreme court and fixing the age of retirement at seventy years.

They urged that if such an amendment is accepted the rates should be proclaimed from day to day, based on the conditions of the foreign market.

Prepares List of Questions.
Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee made public tonight a list of twenty-nine questions relating to the tariff prepared by majority members of the committee which will be sent to manufacturers of the country.

To avert any clash over this action in the senate the majority will send with their list the original sixteen questions proposed by Senator LaFollette, although most of his are incorporated in the majority list. The preliminary questions relate to the manufacturer's identity, the commodity produced, the raw materials used in production, whether they are produced here or abroad and if imported from whence; cost per unit of raw material and cost per unit of similar product in foreign countries. The other questions relate to the cost, competitors price, etc.

NEWETT TRIAL TO BEGIN MONDAY

Roosevelt Sues News- paperman in Libel Suit for $10,000 Damages

CALLS COLONEL BOOZER

Publishes Statement That "Roosevelt Gets Drunk and That Not Infrequently"

MANY WITNESSES TO TESTIFY

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 23.—Theodore Roosevelt will attempt to show in court here Monday that George A. Newett, publisher of the Iron Ore, a weekly paper at the neighboring city of Ishpeming, was in error when he published that "Roosevelt gets drunk and that not infrequently and all his intimates know it."

No one of the iron range who can leave his work will fail to attend the trial and it is certain that Judge Richard C. Flannigan's court room can hold only a small percentage of them.

The judge has declined to make reservations for anyone except newspapermen, somewhat to the annoyance of some prominent citizens who were instructed to come early and get at the head of the line if they wished to be present. The suit charges libel and the colonel names $10,000 as damages. It is estimated that the trial will consume two weeks, although there are a large number of depositions taken by each side to be read and argued over by the lawyers and a respectable army of witnesses to be heard.

No Discussion of the Case.
When the suit was filed, Judge Flannigan got pledges from both parties to the suit to refrain from discussing the case with newspapermen and to keep secret the contents of depositions and the names of witnesses. The pledges have been kept and today no outsider knows the name of a defense witness except that of an Ohio newspaper man whose paper is said to have published his testimony.

It is thought that by this means interest has subsided since last October when the alleged libel was published and the twelve intelligent and partial jurors will be more readily secured than otherwise would have been the case. When the news was received that Colonel Roosevelt was on his way west, interest grew lively, and was the sole topic of conversation. The former president is expected here Monday.

Mr. Newett, in the campaign of last year remained in the ranks of the Republican party and the publication of the Roosevelt editorial was an incident of that struggle. This is only known of his defense; he will claim that publication of the article was privileged as comment on a public character running for public office and as a secondary line of resistance he will attempt to prove that the editorial spoke the truth.

The defendant is a man of middle age, iron gray hair, a cropped mustache, and what local description calls a "fighting" face. He is comfortably equipped with the goods of the world, although not rich. He has declined all contributions of money to assist in his defense according to a statement made by his son today.

LETTER FROM GOV. HODGES.
Washington, May 23.—Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce tonight made public a letter from Governor Hodges of Kansas endorsing the secretary's announced intention of investigating any reduction in wages on account of tariff revision. The governor declared his approval of the Wilson administration and says the people of the midland west were expecting free sugar, lumber, wool and iron in fulfillment of Democratic platform pledges.

MISS CLEARY'S WORK IS PRAISED BY PRESS.

Musical Leader Compliments Efforts of Jacksonville Reader.

The many friends of Miss Mary H. Cleary, who has been doing work in Chicago, will be pleased to learn that she is meeting with success, which is shown from the following article which is taken from "The Musical Leader."

A recent addition to the dramatic readers and teachers in Chicago is Mary H. Cleary who since completing her studies at the Boston School of Oratory has won great success teaching in Jacksonville.

Thursday afternoon Miss Cleary was introduced to a Chicago audience in a number of readings that ranged from comedy to tragedy, at an informal reception in the Theodora Sturkow Ryder studios. Miss Cleary possesses ability and versatility. She has a well modulated voice, which is used to good advantage in coloring her interpretations and with her very pleasing and attractive personality she makes a most favorable impression on her audience. Among her numbers was "The Happy Prince" to which Mrs. Starkow-Ryder played a very artistic accompaniment.

TEAM RUNS AWAY.
Friday morning the team hitched to the oil wagon of Henry L. Conchman became frightened on Webster avenue and ran east on College avenue at a lively rate and collided with a buggy near Illinois college. The buggy was the property of John H. Hill and probably the only thing that saved it from total destruction was the fact that the team swerved to ward the middle of the street just as it approached the buggy. As it was the hubs were bent and some spokes in the vehicle broken. The team continued on the Westminster street, where it stopped and the only damage to the oil wagon was a broken tongue.

CARD OF THANKS.
We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted us during the illness and after the death of our daughter also for the many beautiful flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Souza.

BIG TASK BEFORE RURAL MAIL CARRIERS

Must Weigh All Mails, Count Individual Packages, Postage, and Collect Other Data.

An order has been sent out from the fourth assistant postmaster general at Washington, James I. Blakely, to the effect that commencing June 2 and ending June 30 mail matter must be weighed, account of postage kept, number of packages handled and other data collected. This will mean a great amount of extra work for the carriers and the blanks to fill out are quite comprehensive. The government is collecting facts relative to the rural delivery, which has become an important factor in the mail business.

The letter in part, addressed to the various postmasters, follows: "You are directed, beginning June 2 and ending June 30, to ascertain and record on the inclosed forms the number of pieces of mail matter delivered and collected by each of the rural carriers from your office on each of the trips made; the weight of all mail delivered and collected by each carrier on each trip; the postage as shown by the stamps on all mail delivered and collected on each trip; the postage on all fourth class mail delivered and collected on each trip, and the number of pieces of fourth class mail at our postoffice or on either of the routes starting from your office and postage on same, delivered and collected each trip.

The mail of each class will be counted and weighed separately, and the amount set down on the form enclosed opposite the date on which the delivery and collection are made. If there is more than one trip a day each class of mail delivered and of each class collected on each trip will be consolidated for the day under the various headings, and the amounts of postage on mail delivered and collected on each trip should be consolidated under the respective headings on the same manner.

MISS FLORENCE WATKINS JOINS THE "MOVIES"

Candidate for Street Commissioner on Suffrage Ticket.

Miss Florence Watkins, formerly of this city who moved to Los Angeles, Cal., has a position with the Universal Film company at Hollywood, Cal., and has been making good. The Los Angeles Examiner in speaking of the state of "Movie Actresses," that oppose men at election says: "A complete woman's suffrage ticket, mayor, council, chief of police, prosecuting attorney, street commissioner and other commissioners, investigators and police judges, was named yesterday at the Universal City on the 1500 acres of land where the Universal Film company is operated and a vigorous campaign for office is under way. Miss Webster who is running for mayor was the original "Merry Widow" under Henry Savage's direction. In the list of candidates appears the name of Miss Watkins as one of the three for the office of street commissioner. A. M. Kennedy manager of the company is a candidate for mayor of Los Angeles and is opposed by William Foster, Progressive.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The ladies sewing circle of West North street met with Mrs. J. A. Day at her home on West North street Friday afternoon. This was the last meeting of the year and after social hour some time in sewing a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served and the afternoon proved a most delightful one.

Miss Gladys Biggs entertained several of her little schoolmates Friday evening after school at her home, 817 South Clay avenue. The hours were spent in playing various games after which light refreshments were served and the occasion was one of very great pleasure.

The Brooklyn Junior Epworth league gave their annual public program last night. There was a good attendance and the program was greatly enjoyed. The Juniors have been under the superintendency of Miss Ida Kelley, who has been significantly successful in her work. There are now 65 members. Following the program of the evening light refreshments were served.

SHERMAN PLANS FOR

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

Illinois Senator Introduces Bill Which Would Lesson Powers of Party National Committees.

Chicago Tribune: "Senator Sherman of Illinois introduced in the senate today a bill providing for presidential preference primaries and for government supervision of national conventions.

The national committee of every party is made a comparatively harmless aggregation of citizens by the Sherman bill. The senator, who came into frequent collision with the "old guard" at the Republican convention in Chicago last year, built his measure on the principle that the national committees should be deprived of dangerous arbitrary power and state primary laws recognized as supreme.

No more delegate contests will be decided by the national committee if the Sherman bill becomes a law. Contests will be decided by the state authorities, from whom an appeal may be taken, not to the national committee, but to the convention itself.

About the only thing the national committee is to do is to issue the convention call, and if it fails to do that the secretary of the interior is authorized to designate the convention city.

Main Features of the Bill. The principle features of the bill are:

State primary laws shall be recognized as the lawful manner of choosing delegates and alternates to party convention and of selecting national committeemen.

National conventions are to be held commencing on the third Monday of June, 1916 and every fourth year thereafter.

Representation in the convention is fixed at one delegate and one alternate for every 15,000 votes cast by the party in the state, but at least one delegate for each congressional district and two in addition for each senator and representative at large in a state casting more than 25,000 votes for the party, or one additional where the vote is less than that number.

If there is no national ticket primary law in the state the local officials may place on the ballot the names of candidates for delegates and alternates and national committeemen.

Only Elected Delegates Recognized. If the delegates are not elected by primary they are denied admission to the convention.

Voters shall be permitted to indicate their preference for president and vice-president.

Names of candidates for presidential and vice presidential nomination are to be placed on the ballot upon submission of a petition of 5 percent of the party voters of the district or state and an acceptance signed by the candidate.

The secretary of state in each state certifies the results of the primary to the secretary of the interior who certifies to the convention the temporary roll of delegates.

If a national committeeman is not selected under a state primary law he is elected by the delegation.

"I take the view that no national committee should override the wishes of the party voters of a state," said Senator Sherman. "There are ten states which select delegates en bloc, ignoring the congressional district unit, as did California. When a national committee arbitrarily thrusts aside such laws it disrupts the party in those states."

AGRICULTURAL NEWS POINTS.

On page nine of this issue readers will find five columns of "Illinois Corn Belter" articles. This department will appear regularly once each week in the Journal. The matter is furnished by special arrangement with the department of publications of the University of Illinois and Journal readers will thus come in touch with the best thought along agricultural and general educational lines in the state of Illinois. More and more are the people of this state coming to a realization of the fact that the greatest question for solution is that of making land produce more and at the same time keeping up the soil fertility. The school of agriculture at the university has within recent years developed into a very important factor in the agriculture of the state and the Journal believes that in furnishing each week authorized articles from the instructors and department heads of the school of agriculture that knowledge of great value will be given local circulation.

PARASOLS, IN THE NEW DOME

SHAPE, SPECIAL AT $1.98

Everyone who has seen these new sun-shades has become enraptured with their beauty. The new dome shape is a decided departure from the lines upon which parasols were formerly made, the cover extending far down and enveloping the features in a manner which is most bewitching.

In purchasing this assortment we endeavored to include all the wanted shades, so that every woman may have a parasol to harmonize with the rest of her outfit. Some are of pure white with colored stripe or fancy borders, others in nobby figured effects—and a number of styles are featured in the Bulgarian silks. (See display in South Window.)

There is nothing cheap about these sun-shades but the price. The covers are of first quality silk and should retail at $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00; but to introduce the new style we are offering you choice of the lot, for this week only, at..... $1.98

GREAT LOSS SUFFERED BY ITALIAN TROOPS IN BATTLE

Clash With Arabs May 16 Results In Loss of 1,000 Men.

Rome, May 23.—The loss suffered by Italian troops under General Granbetti in the battle on May 16, with Arabs at Sidi Garbe, Tripoli was worse than reported.

Early advices said the Italian losses were 79 officers and men killed and 259 wounded. The first roll call after the Italians returned to headquarters however, showed that 1,000 men were absent from the ranks, having either been killed, wounded or taken prisoners.

The Italian forces numbered 5,000. False reports to the Italian commander said the Arabs had 2,000 men, while in reality they aggregated 10,000. They were led by 300 Turkish officers and soldiers and reinforced by cannon.

During the Italian advance the Arabs made a retreat but later they made an attack which took the Italians by surprise. The Italians defended themselves heroically but heavy losses generally caused them to retreat, leaving artillery ammunition and provisions in the hands of the enemy.

GARY QUOTES WILSON IN ADDRESS AT NEW YORK MEETING

Chairman of U. S. Steel Co. Speaks at Meeting of American Iron and Steel Institute.

New York, May 23.—E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, quoted President Wilson at the annual meeting today of the American Iron and Steel Institute as saying that honesty had nothing to fear from the Democratic administration and added:

"Let us accept that statement as coming from President Wilson to mean just what he said and let us feel assured."

When Mr. Gary took his seat a moment later, a resolution calling for public meetings of the institute hereafter, instead of executive sessions, was introduced and unanimously adopted. Several of the so-called Gary dinners at which the government alleges the price of steel and iron was fixed by manufacturers were held under the institution auspices and all meetings heretofore have been secret. Mr. Gary in his talk alluded to what he called the disposition of legislative bodies to tinker with questions they are not very prepared to discuss or provide, mentioning particularly the passing of laws which he said were calculated to produce classes.

"I think for instance," he continued, "the proposition to assess men who have incomes more than $4,000 and exempting the incomes of those who receive less than $4,000 is one of the worst things that has ever happened in this country because it immediately arrays 97 per cent of the people against 3 per cent of the people."

DEBATE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT

San Francisco, May 23.—Workmen's compensation today occupied much of the time of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in convention here. The debate to be continued tomorrow is centering on whether the brotherhood shall favor a compulsory federal law, which would make the employer liable for injuries or deaths, regardless of responsibility for the accident or an optional law which would permit the employers, if they wished, to operate under the existing law which places the onus of proof of blame upon the beneficiary.

MISSOURI C. WINS.
Lawrence, Kan., May 23.—University of Missouri won the college championship of the Missouri valley in tennis singles at a tournament here today when Wood of Missouri defeated Cave of Ames 7-5; 6-1; 6-2.

In the semi-finals in doubles Wood and Schwartz of Missouri defeated Fannon and Page of Drake and H. Richardson and E. Richardson of Kansas defeated Cave and Rath of Ames.

The Missouri and Kansas teams will play the finals in doubles tomorrow.

CHILDRESS IS ELECTED.

East St. Louis, Ill., May 23.—E. H. Childress, Fairfield, Ill., was today elected president of the Southern Illinois Editorial association to succeed John T. Galbraith, Carbondale. The annual meeting of the association began here this morning. Henry J. Smith, Nashville, was chosen vice-president.

S. P. Preston, Gillespie, and Ben Jarvis, Troy, were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

BODY IN MAUSOLEUM.

St. Augustine, Fla., May 23.—The body of Henry M. Flagler to day was placed in the mausoleum of the Flagler Memorial church after simple funeral exercises had been held in memory of the millionaire. Few of thousands who attended the services were able to enter the little church.

TAKES OATH OF OFFICE.

Washington, May 23.—Gayland M. Saltzberger of Van Wert, Ohio, today took the oath of office as commissioner of pensions.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, nor to run a heavy doctor's bill, he cured himself completely by using Foley's Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." He has had no return whatever of the pain, backache and burning. His name is J. A. Farmer, and he says: "Of course I recommend Foley Kidney Pills as a very effective cure for kidney and bladder trouble." For sale by the City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

TEMPORARY BALCONY FALLS INJURING MANY STUDENTS

More Than 300 Boys and Girls Were Precipitated to Floor When Balcony Collapsed.

Akron, O., May 23.—Fifteen students of the central high school were seriously injured and scores were severely cut and bruised here today when a temporary balcony which had been erected in the auditorium of the school building collapsed. The majority of the injured were girls, many of them sustaining broken arms and legs.

The students were rehearsing the Oratorio "Samson" which was to have been given tonight when the accident occurred.

More than 300 boys and girls, seated in the balcony were precipitated to the floor, a fall of 20 feet and it was with difficulty that they were extracted from the entangled mass of bodies and debris.

The auditorium was filled with students when the crash came, but all except those in the balcony escaped.

Moors and Morocco.

Moors and Morocco are words unknown to the people of that troubled land. These people know themselves as Arabs and descendants of those valiant upholders of the prophet's green standard who swept like a flood across north Africa at the time of the hegira. The Morocco of the present day they found possessed by a sturdy race who claimed descent from the people who were cast out of Canaan by Joshua, the son of Nun. Their country, so far as its plains were concerned, was taken from them by the Arabs, and their fighting strength was made to serve the Arab cause in the conquest of Spain. They themselves gradually took to the mountains, to the great Atlas. Here they have remained ever since, speaking their own language, maintaining their own customs and racial attributes and obstinately refusing to be absorbed by the Arab dwellers on the plains. These people are the Berbers. Their tongue is called Shillah. Literature they have none, in the ordinary sense of the word, but they have a rich store of oral tradition, myth, legend and folklore.

Fees of the Lecture Platform.

"The palmy days of the lecture platform"—when were they? Most folks would guess before the war, when Ralph Waldo Emerson demanded $5 a night and a tip of four quarts of oats for his horse, or a little later, when Eli Perkins used to say all he asked for was F. A. M. E. (fifty and my expenses). Wiser ones will point to the time between 1872, when Henry Ward Beecher got his first $1,000 fee, and 1890, when Major Pond paid Henry M. Stanley $100,000 for 100 lectures. They will cite Mark Twain, John B. Gough, P. T. Barnum and a long list of old timers that got from $500 to $1,000 a night in that period, and they will tell you that those times have gone.

Maybe they have, but the lecture platform hasn't. Individual fees are not so high, but the business never offered better chances to the would be entertainer than right now.—Detroit Free Press.

Of Course Not.

Mrs. Roby, the distinguished lady traveler and explorer, told some interesting stories of her experiences in central Africa.

In one of the villages through which Mrs. Roby passed a leopard which had killed several children was captured and appropriated by the chief, who kept it in his bed for several days. Mrs. Roby visited the chief and was shown the dead body of the leopard.

"Why do you keep it?" she asked.

"Because it is a king leopard," was the reply.

"What will you do with it?" was Mrs. Roby's next question.

To which the chief replied tersely, "Eat it."

"But it smells most horribly," Mrs. Roby objected.

"I shall not eat the smell," the chief assured her.

Pronouncing London Names.

It is by his pronunciation of the place names of London that a stranger may be detected. If he says Hol-born instead of "Hoborn," Mary-le-bone with the full pronunciation of each syllable or South-wark instead of "Suthark," we know at once that he is not of the town. And there is a pronunciation that is peculiar to cabmen and bus conductors, such as West-min-ster for Westminster. High park for Hyde park and, most peculiar of all, which the taxi driver has inherited from the old hansom cabman, the custom of calling the well known piazzas in Covent Garden the "pea-ches." And this reminds us that the garden, as salesmen and actors call it, is invariably styled by the market porters "Common Garden."—London Standard.

A Perilous Business.

Taking young geese on the island of Rona, in the outermost Hebrides, is a most perilous business, though large captures are occasionally made. A crew recently returned with a bag of 2,200 birds, which found ready sale at Ness. The men were lowered over the face of the cliffs, which are 400 to 600 feet sheer to the sea. They then lassoed the birds out of their nests by means of a fishing rod with a noosed string at the end.

FILES ANSWER IN QUO WARRANTO CASE

DR. CLAMPTT MAINTAINS HE IS A THIRD WARD CITIZEN.

Plea Made by Board of Education
Member Resists Ouster Proceedings—Sets Forth That He Received
Notice to Move and Could Find
No Other House in Ward Suited to His Needs.

The plea of Dr. L. H. Clamptt in the quo warranto proceedings brought to oust him from membership in the board of education has been filed by his attorneys, Worthington, Reeve & Green. In this plea it is set forth that while Dr. Clamptt is residing now in the second ward that he intends to return to the third ward when he can rent a suitable house there. The plea is in the following language:

Quotes Election Figures.

"And now on this day comes Lewis H. Clamptt, defendant in the above entitled cause, by Worthington, Reeve & Green, his attorneys, and having heard said information read, for plea in this behalf, says, that on the 16th day of April, A. D. 1912, and for more than ten years prior thereto, he was a householder and resident of the third ward of the city of Jacksonville and state of Illinois; that on said 16th day of April, A. D. 1912, a regular election was held in said third ward of said city for the purpose of electing from said ward a director or member of the board of education of Jacksonville school district; that at said election this respondent and one Walter Smith were the only candidates for said position of director or member of said board of education; that the total number of votes cast at said election was eleven hundred and twenty-four (1124), of which votes respondent received six hundred and seventy (670), or a majority of two hundred and sixteen (216), and was by the judges at said election, declared duly elected a member of said board of education for said third ward of said city; and that at a meeting of the city council of said city held on the 22nd day of April, 1912, the returns from said election were canvassed, and by a resolution of said city council respondent was declared duly elected as a director or member of the board of education or said Jacksonville school district.

Call Third Ward Legal Residence. "And respondent further says that since the date of said election and until the present time he has maintained his legal residence in said third ward of said city, and not elsewhere.

"And by this warrant, the said Lewis H. Clamptt says that he has held and exercised during all the time in said information mentioned, and still rightly holds and exercises, the office of a director or member of the board of education of said Jacksonville school district, as he well might; and that he, the said Lewis H. Clamptt, has not unlawfully usurped, and did not unlawfully usurp at the time, said information was filed, the franchise aforesaid upon said people, as by the said information is above suggested. All of which matters he is ready to verify, etc.

Second Plea is Made.

"And for a further plea in this behalf defendant says that plaintiff ought not to be allowed to maintain its aforesaid action against him, because he says that on the 16th day of April, 1912, and for many years prior thereto, he was a householder and resident of the third ward in the city of Jacksonville, Illinois, and on said date was duly and regularly elected a member of the board of education of Jacksonville school district from said third ward, as is more specifically set out in said first plea, to which this is attached, and to which reference is hereby made; that he was declared duly elected to said position by a resolution of the city council of said city adopted at a regular meeting thereof held on the 22nd day of April, 1912; that immediately thereafter he entered upon the performance of his duties as such member of said board of education and has continued to perform said duties to the present time; that at the time of his said election and for more than two years prior thereto he had occupied with his family a rented house in said third ward of said city.

Had to Surrender Home.

In August, 1912, he received from his landlord a notice to vacate said house by October 1, 1912; that he then intended, and at all times since has intended, to retain his legal residence in said third ward, and made every effort to secure a suitable house for himself and family in said ward, but was unable to do so; that in consequence of such inability he secured a house for temporary residence in the second ward of said city and moved thereto with his family and household goods on the first day of October, 1912; and he then, and at all times since, intended to occupy the same only as a temporary residence until such time as he could secure a suitable house in said third ward, and to retain his legal residence in said third ward; that at all times on and since said 1st day of October, 1912, he has been looking for a suitable house in said third ward; but has been unable to secure one; that when he so removed temporarily from said third ward he announced publicly that such removal was only temporary, and not for the purpose of changing his actual residence, and that he retained, and at all times since has retained, his actual and legal residence in said third ward, and will return thereto as soon as he can secure a suitable house, and that he has never voted at any election except in said third ward so long as he has resided in said city of Jacksonville.

Says Office is Rightfully Held.

"And by this warrant, the said Lewis H. Clamptt says that he has held and exercised during all the time in said information mentioned, and still rightly holds and exercises, the office of a director or member of the board of education of said Jacksonville school district, as he well might; and that he, the said Lewis H. Clamptt, has not unlawfully usurped, and did not unlawfully usurp at the time, said information was filed, the franchise aforesaid upon said people, as by the said information is above suggested. All of which matters he is ready to verify, etc."

FOR ECONOMY IN FUEL.

A circular has been posted at the Bloomington office of the C. & A. by Superintendent J. E. O'Hearne announcing the appointment of John S. Fulton as fuel economist, his duties to consist of economies in handling and in the consumption of fuel and in securing the maximum of efficiency with the minimum of consumption. Mr. Fulton has been with the New York Central lines of late and is an authority upon this subject. He will give a series of talks to engineers explaining the proper methods of firing locomotives and will also ride with firemen and point out defects in their methods of handling the scoop. The fuel bill of the Alton has reached large proportions in late years and management is anxious to effect a saving.

ALL IN READINESS FOR ROYAL WEDDING

German Emperor's Only Daughter
Will Become Wife of Prince Ernest of Cumberland.

Berlin, May 23.—After many weeks of hard work and feverish activity the preparations for tomorrow's wedding which will make Princess Victoria Louise, only daughter of Emperor William II., the wife of Prince Ernest of Cumberland, are practically completed. The imperial palaces in Berlin and Potsdam are filled with the distinguished guests invited to the wedding and to make room for their numerous suites and for his own special guests the emperor found it necessary to reserve the first and second floors of the Hotel Adlon for his three sisters, the Princess and Princesses Henry of Prussia, and a large part of the entourage of King George and Queen Mary of England.

Tomorrow's royal wedding will be a great event in more than one respect. The loyal Germans are delighted with the union. The princess has always been extremely popular and as it is well understood that her marriage to Prince Ernest is a genuine love match and not a union planned and arranged for state reasons, the whole country rejoices over the event. The fact that the marriage has also great historical importance, and that it will end the 50-year feud between the houses of Hohenzollern and Cumberland, is an additional reason for general rejoicing.

Some Distinguished Guests. Among the distinguished guests invited to the wedding who have already arrived at the capital are King George and Queen Mary of England, the king and queen of Italy, the king and queen of Denmark, Crown Prince Francis Ferdinand, who will represent the aged emperor of Austria, Francis Joseph, and a score or more of princes and high dignitaries sent as the representatives of the various other European dynasties and governments. The presence of these distinguished visitors with their entourage and the arrival of the numerous delegations from all parts of the empire, bearing gifts and addresses from the loyal people in the principal cities of the country, together with the thousands of visitors from all parts of Europe and even from many countries beyond the sea, have caused considerable congestion of the hotels and accommodations are difficult to obtain.

The religious marriage ceremony, which will be preceded by the civil formalities at Potsdam, will take place tomorrow at the chapel of the imperial palace, in the presence of the imperial family and of the distinguished invited guests. The happy bride will wear a magnificent bridal gown of white satin and hand-made lace, made with a court train three and one-half yards long and a beautiful veil of filmy hand-made lace. In accordance with custom the bride will be given away by her father, the emperor.

The truly royal trousseau of the princess, carefully selected by her during the past few months, and the magnificent wedding presents from the royal house of Europe, the rulers and governments of other foreign countries and the loyal citizens of the various states and cities of the empire have been on exhibition in a well guarded room in the imperial palace for several days, but only to the members of the court and some privileged visitors. The aggregate value of the jewels and other gifts is estimated at $1,000,000, but the most princely gift of all, it is believed, will be the gift of Emperor William, consisting of the crown of the Grand Duchy of Brunswick, to which will be added a considerable slice of the old kingdom of Hanover, now a Prussian province, including the district of Lüneburg.

End Feud Felicitously. This arrangement will bring to a most felicitous ending the feud between the Hohenzollern and the Guelphs which for more than fifty years has caused a great deal of friction in European politics and has greatly complicated the political relations between Germany and England. The feud dates back to the time of George I., who, when he succeeded to the English throne was both Duke of Brunswick-Lüneburg and King of Hanover. At that time there was no German empire, and the duchy and kingdom were independent states in which their rulers held large property and revenue rights. There was another house of Brunswick, the house of Brunswick-Wolfenbüttel, which terminated, however, in 1844 by the death of the last duke, William, Duke of Brunswick. The dukedom was then claimed by the house of Brunswick-Lüneburg, which is now represented by Duke Ernest August, Duke of Cumberland and Duke of Brunswick-Lüneburg, the father of Prince Ernest of Cumberland. Political complications caused the German emperor to oppose the succession of the Duke of Cumberland to the title of King of Hanover and to the enjoyment of the possession of the Duke of Brunswick. All efforts of mediation by the late King Edward proved without avail and it will remove a great deal of ill feeling and bitterness if the young prince is restored to the title and possessions denied to his father.

Interest in the various smaller colleges of Illinois is centered about the Central Illinois Intercollegiate track and field meet, which will be held this afternoon on Bradley field at Peoria. Illinois can scarcely expect to carry off the honors, although the men are in good condition and expect to win as many points as last year, when fifteen were given the local athletes. Prins stands a good show to win the shot put as he threw the ball 38 feet in the meet against Millikin recently. Morrison has a good chance for the high jump and the boys intend to give their opponents a hard race for the honors.

The tennis events were run off Friday and the athletic events will be this afternoon. Clarence Kimmel and Edward Johnson are the tennis representatives for Illinois. Athletic Lecture. A free motion picture lecture was given last night in Bradley hall by Prof. W. J. Monolaw, formerly athletic director of the Missouri university, now head of the school of education of the Chicago university. The motion pictures shown gave a full exhibition of the scientific points connected with the training by American athletes in the Stockholm, Olympia, which Dr. Monolaw attended and acted as an official. The lecture showed the scientific reasons for the form displayed by the jumpers, runners and weight men.

MISSIONARY UNION HELD
VERY INTERESTING SESSION

Mrs. Wells of Chicago Made Address on Mormonism—Luncheon Followed by Round Table Discussion.

The semi-annual meeting of the Missionary union was held at State Street church Friday, May 23. A large number was present and listened to one of the most inspiring and helpful programs ever held by the union. The president, Mrs. Thornberry, called the meeting to order, and asked Mrs. Morey to lead the devotional exercises. A hymn, "Love Divine," was sung and a short praise service followed, and Mrs. Williams offered prayer. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The president then appointed the nominating committee as follows: Mrs. W. H. H. King, Mrs. Waller, Mrs. Watt.

The president introduced the speaker, Mrs. D. B. Wells of Chicago, whose topic was "Mormonism." The audience was highly pleased with the way in which the splendid address was given. Mrs. Wells is a brilliant speaker and well informed on the subject she discussed.

Following the address Miss Katherine Rogers delighted the audience with a vocal number. Mrs. Tomlinson acting as accompanist. The morning session was closed with prayer by Dr. Post. The audience then adjourned to the dining room, where a noon luncheon was served by the ladies of the church. After luncheon the audience assembled in the Sunday school room, where the remainder of the program was carried out. This consisted of round table talks: First, How We Won 75 Members—Mrs. Charles Hopper. Second, In What Way Can the Missionary Union Help Jacksonville?—Miss Waller, city matron. Third, How to Create a Deeper Interest in Missionary Work—Mrs. Thornberry. Fourth, Reasons for Belonging to Missionary Union—Mrs. Ward. Mrs. Wells then gave a short talk on the round table topics which concluded the program and the meeting adjourned.

CIVIL WAR CHAPLAIN
DIES AT DUQUOIN.

Rev. Jacob Cole Was Last Survivor of Chaplains Who Served in U. S.
Army in the Early Sixties.

The death of Rev. Jacob Cole, which occurred at Duquoin, marks the passing of the last surviving chaplain of an Illinois regiment of the civil war. The deceased was stricken with apoplexy while attending a reunion of the survivors of the Eighteenth Illinois regiment in Duquoin at which he delivered an address. His condition rapidly grew worse, and for forty-eight hours before his death his condition was regarded as hopeless.

The deceased was born in New Prussia, a French province, November 3, 1827, and at his death was 85 years old. He came to America with his parents in 1830, and a few years later settled on a farm near Henderson, Ky. He began his theological studies at an early age, enrolling as a student in the Western Baptist Theological Institute at Covington, Kentucky. After serving as a member of the faculty at Owensboro Academy, he devoted several months to a lecture tour, during which he raised funds for the maintenance of the American Bible union.

Throughout the civil war Rev. Mr. Cole served as chaplain of the memorable Thirty-first Illinois regiment, commanded by Gen. John A. Logan. During his military career he was tendered the offices of major and colonel, but declined both, preferring his duties as chaplain.

Rev. Mr. Cole served as pastor of many Baptist churches of southern Illinois, including those at Duquoin, Carbondale, Murphysboro and Harrisburg. Politically he was a staunch Republican, and was a great admirer of Gen. Logan, with whom he was intimately associated during the war.

How She Cured Her Husband

"For five years my husband suffered with his stomach. The medicine he took only gave relief for a while, nothing cured, writes Mrs. Sarah Baker of Nottingham, Mo. 'Our merchant bought some of Chamberlain's medicines last fall and also received some free trial samples of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He gave us some of them and I wanted my husband to try them. He said it would do no good. His stomach had been troubling him worse than ever. At last on Friday I told him if he would not take those tablets I was going to send for a doctor, and he said he would take them. By Monday he was like another man. The blues were gone, no more trouble with his stomach, and the best part is that the trouble has not returned. I cannot praise Chamberlain's Tablets too highly.'"

CLOCK ATTRACTS NOTICE.
The electric clock in front of the Jacksonville National bank building attracts a great deal of attention. The clock has a luminous dial which makes it readable for a considerable distance and at night it is illuminated by electricity. The musical chimes are heard at the hour, half and quarter hours, the stroke varying from four to sixteen.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.
George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Alcott, druggist.

MAY GO TO NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT.
At the state encampment of the G. A. R. held in Alton the past week Dr. A. W. Foreman of White Hall was appointed a delegate to the National Encampment to be held in Chattanooga in September. This appointment was made to represent the 20th congressional district. Lycurgus Goheen of this city was named as alternate.

WINNER TO CLAIM HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE.
Calgary, Alta., May 23.—Luther McCarty and Arthur Pelkey finished training today for their ten round contest which is to be pulled off at Tommy Burns' club tomorrow night. Public interest has reached a high pitch with the near approach of the date of the battle. The interest has been further increased by the announcement that the winner of the fight will lay claim to the heavy-weight championship title. McCarty is a favorite in the betting, but Pelkey has many admirers here who believe he will be able to hold his own for ten rounds against the big fighter from across the border. The advance sale of seats indicates that a big crowd will be on hand to see the mill.

TO RAISE FUNDS FOR PEACE CENTENARY.

Unequaled for a Bad Cold.
Ask anyone who has tried it and he will tell you that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has never been equalled. I am only too pleased to say a few words in its praise." For sale by all dealers.

ON THE SIDELINES.

The weather man has it in for the fans and is dishing out his worst specimens in the climate line. The box scores this morning in consequence are few and far between.

Decatur has received a check for three thousand dollars from the New York Giants to complete the payment for Fitcher Schupp. This indicates that the Giants think he is all right.

Tinker has made another trade. This time he lets Fromme go in exchange for Ames, Devore and Grob, of the Giants. Says McGraw: "Ames has been of little use to the Giants for the past few years and the same is true of Devore. Grob is a good fielder and a consistent hitter but I could not find a berth for him as a regular." Fromme reported to the Giants yesterday. From this distance it looks like the best of the deal is with McGraw. Fromme is apt to be a real star with the Giants. How Joe can figure that the Reds are to be benefited by the trade is a mystery.

Charles Welch Murphy is out with another one of his theories. He gives an original idea for depositing Chance in favor of Evers. He says that Chance is a rich man and consequently had little incentive to work. Also Joe Tinker is in the plutocratic class and was of no use to the Cubs. Evers is a poor man and will work harder for the success of the team, opines C. W. Why not go direct to headquarters if Evers don't make good and get a manager from the Cook county poor farm?

The fight in the National league is a warm one. The scene of action will now undergo a shift, the eastern clubs coming west for the first time. The western teams with a month on the home grounds should regain some of the lost prestige. The Cubs, especially made a most disastrous showing. The Phillies start west safely entrenched in the leading position with no indications of letting down. The Quakers won fifteen out of eighteen games on their home grounds. No wonder they are in the front rank. The Giants did not do nearly so well. In fact there is a notable let-up in the snap and dash that characterized their play last and the season before. The reason for it is that the pitching staff is not doing as well as it did in those seasons. Boston did only fairly well, while Brooklyn shared honors with the Phillies.

Already Brooklyn's new grounds are proving too small. The last game before the western trip will be played today and every seat in the stands has been spoken for. Ebbets has under consideration the doubling of the seating capacity for next season. Better wait till after the western trip is over before letting the contracts. Base ball fans are fickle folks and a losing streak is apt to start the hammers going.

The story sent out, supposedly from Galesburg, that Monmouth and Kewanee were on the ragged edge, has brought forth a vigorous denial, as far as Monmouth is concerned. In a signed statement the Monmouth directors assert that Monmouth never has fallen down and will not this year. Every confidence is expressed in Manager Hough and the certainty that the fans will rally to the support of the team is taken for granted.

It all ended about as was expected. Stovall is to be reinstated as manager of the Browns, after paying a "heavy fine." He must also apologize to Umpire Ferguson. Stovall expresses his willingness to do this as he recognizes the fact that he was in the wrong. He will probably be back in the Browns' line up today.

Peoria is after a slogan to be used when the team is being beaten and a rally is needed. Why not try "Pick Up Peoria." And speaking of pick ups, Barry McCormick seems to have the faculty of going into the bushes and picking up regular jewels in the way of young talent. His latest is Alberts, a young Greek from New Athens. This descendant of the ancient race of athletes recently opposed the great Blue-jacket and came out victorious by 5 to 1.

PHILLIES TAKE THIRD STRAIGHT GAME FROM REDS

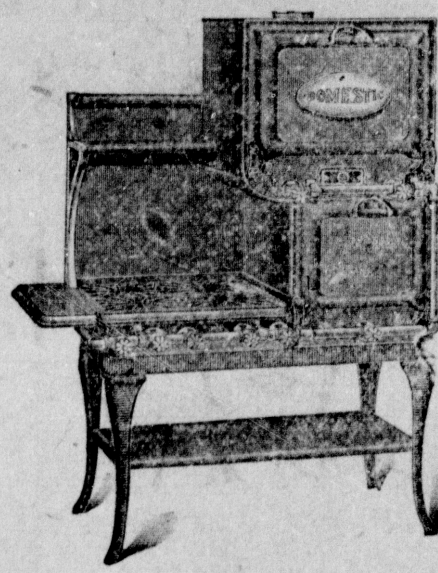

Cincinnati Escapes a Shutout Through a Home Run Drive By Almeida.

Philadelphia, May 23.—Philadelphia won the third straight game from Cincinnati here today 4 to 1. The visitors escaped a shutout through a home run drive into the bleachers by Almeida.

Three double plays were made by the home team. Only thirty batters faced Brennan, Bescher, who made a pair of doubles, was the only man, in addition to Almeida, to get as far as second base. Both times Bescher was left at second, he being the only visiting player to be stranded on the circuit.

Today's game wound up Philadelphia's stay at home, during which the team won fifteen contests and lost three. Score:
Cincinnati . . . 0 10 0 0 0—1 7 2
Philadelphia . . . 0 0 10 2 1—4 7 0

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Beatrice, Neb.—“Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls.”—Mrs. R. B. CHILD, Beatrice, Neb.

The Other Case.

Cary, Maine.—“I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but my husband thought I had better write to you and I did so, stating my symptoms. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work and a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your Vegetable Compound.”—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

The Best Treatment for Itching Scalps, Dan- druff and Falling Hair

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura soap and hot water. Shampoos alone will be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair. Cuticura soap and ointment sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address "Cuticura," Dept. 3, Boston.

Agricultural News Valuable To Farmers

SWEET CLOVER AIDS TO WORN OUT SOILS

IS CROP WHICH IS GROWN WITH COMPARATIVE EASE.

Has Value as Legume Cover Crop—Illinois Experiment Station Has Produced Interesting Developments.

Methods of maintaining the supply of organic material and nitrogen in the soil should be a subject of interest to every farmer in the state. It requires but little figuring to readily understand how exceedingly difficult it is to matter. With a large supply of organic material assured the solution of the problem of permanent agriculture would be largely solved. The two sources of organic material and nitrogen are the farm manures on the one hand and the crop residues and green manures on the other hand. The green manuring crops have largely been confined to the regular legume crops grown in the rotation. But little has been done in this state in the way of increasing the amount of green manure by means of legume cover crops. Often the amount of green manure can be almost doubled by slightly modifying the order of the rotation, or possibly by changing the legume grown in the regular rotation so as to make room for a cover crop. For example, by changing the order of the common four year rotation of corn, oats, wheat, clover to corn, oats, clover, wheat it is possible to grow a legume cover crop in the wheat. Seeded in the spring it can grow until late in the fall or even to the first of the middle of May of the following spring. By modifying the very common three year rotation of corn, wheat, clover to the one of corn, soybeans or cowpeas, wheat, it is possible to seed a legume in the wheat to grow as long as possible before the land must be plowed for corn.

Rich in Nitrogen.
Of all the plants suitable for a legume cover crop purposes there is probably none that is as easily grown or that will provide as large amounts of organic material rich in nitrogen as sweet clover.

Sweet clover (Melilotus Alba) is a biennial, not maturing seed until the second year after seeding. Because of this it can be seeded with the small grain crop, wheat, oats or barley, early in the spring and grow until late the following spring without having matured seed. If conditions are favorable a heavy growth will be made during the fall which may be left on the land over winter to prevent soil washing where the land is subject to erosion. It will begin its spring growth earlier than almost any plant so that by the first to the middle of May there will be a heavy growth of very easily decaying material to turn under. It is not at all unusual to get as much as a ton to a ton and a half of fall growth and as much more in the spring. This two or more tons of material has not only been seed and seedling, but without loss of time. The amount of nitrogen per ton of dry sweet clover is sufficient to produce at least 25 bushels of corn.

Renovates Worn Soil.
Aside from its value as a legume cover crop plant, sweet clover has a very high value as a plant for quickly renovating badly worn soils. It is very hardy, growing under conditions too adverse for most legumes. Still sweet clover will not grow where it has not previously grown unless the ground is inoculated. As the seed is usually harvested in the rough, there will as a rule, be a slight inoculation the first year and perfect inoculation the second year. Neither will it grow in a soil that is distinctly acid. Where the soil has been made sweet as by the application of limestone, sweet clover will thrive almost anywhere.

The Illinois experiment station has grown sweet clover both as a cover crop and as a regular crop of the rotation for the seed and to plow under for adding organic material and nitrogen. For both purposes it has proved of great value. A photograph which was taken May 25, 1912, on the southern Illinois prairie soil, shows the amount of growth made thus early in the season and the possibility of this plant in renovating worn out soils. The sweet clover grown in 1911 was later harvested for seed and the straw returned to the land. The amount of seed in the rough was 550 pounds per acre, which at the present market price would be worth $44. The yield of corn on the land in 1911 was 60 bushels per acre, where similar land made less than 25 bushels per acre.

MUCH DEPENDS ON KIND OF DAIRY COWS

CLOSE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN TYPE AND FUNCTION.

Dairymen at Great Loss Too Often Ignore Needed Qualities—Strength and Vigorous Health Not the Only Desirable Features.

(By W. T. Crandall, Instructor in Dairy Husbandry.)

The machinery used in farming operations to day is designed with a particular purpose in view. It is built to accomplish a certain purpose in the most economical and efficient way. No farmer would now consider the reaping of his grain by the old methods which prevailed when the cradle was used; he uses instead a specialized machine which cuts, bundles and binds the grain with a minimum amount of labor and time. This relation between form or type and function exists just as surely in farm animals as it does in farm machinery. Yet we find many dairymen using in the production of milk animals that are no better adapted for that purpose than is the cradle to grain reaping. There is a direct relation between the physical form and the nervous temperament of a cow and its ability to produce milk and butter-fat profitably.

To produce a large amount of milk and butter-fat from amounts of feeds which make such production profitable, a cow must have a dairy temperament, a strong constitution and health, a large feeding capacity, and capacious milk organs. These qualities are indicated to a considerable degree by the external form of the cow and by the presence or absence of certain qualities which may be determined by handling her.

The Dairy Temperament.
Dairy temperament is an inherited tendency to produce milk from such food as is over and above that required to furnish energy for the operations of the body and for the replacing of broken down tissue.

A cow with a good dairy temperament will not carry surplus flesh long after freshening so will show soundness of flesh; her hips and shoulders will be angular and not rounded and full; her back bone will be prominent and ribs plainly seen. A dairy cow must not only show quality in bone, hair, and hide but, she must at the same time have a large capacity in the rear where the feed is digested and the milk secreted. As showing this we have the three wedges. The side wedge is formed by two imaginary lines drawn along the top and bottom lines of the animal; if continued these should meet one or two feet in front of the head, showing that the barrel and udder are deeper and more capacious than the fore part of the animal. The top wedge is formed by lines from the withers to each hip and shows width and capacity behind and refinement and lack of fleshiness in front. The front wedge is formed by lines drawn from top of withers down along the shoulders to the ground, showing width of chest below and refinement above. These wedges if well defined indicate quality and refinement combined with strong constitution and large feeding and milk capacities.

The Dairy Cow's Nervous System.
The dairy cow must have a well developed nervous system, in order to control and direct the many and varied functions of the heart, lungs, and the digestive and milk secreting organs. This development is indicated by prominent, clear, and bright eyes, a broad forehead and by a large, open and prominent back bone. While it is important that the cow have a highly-developed nervous temperament it is also important that she be quiet in disposition and have good control over her nerves so that she may not be easily disturbed and her milk making thus interfered with.

It is necessary that a cow be strong and vigorous so that she can produce heavily, not only for ten or eleven months each year, but for a long period of years. Heavy producers consume large quantities of feeds and it puts a tremendous strain upon them to digest this and change it into milk. Large chest capacity is supposed to show strength of constitution, because here are located the vital organs. It is desirable to have a chest with considerable depth and width at the floor. Good health is shown by the carriage of the animal and by a good blood circulation as indicated by the amounts of secretion in the ears and upon the end of the tail, and by the mellowness of the hide and the slickness of hair.

Importance of Good Digestion.
No matter how much inclination milk, she can never do it extensively or economically unless she has the capacity of barrel to handle and digest large amounts of the coarser and cheaper feeds. As indicating this capacity the barrel or that part of the body between the heart girth and the hips, should be long with ribs wide and far apart, broad with well sprung ribs and wide hips and deep. It is of prime importance that together with capacity a cow have a large enough muzzle through which to take in the feed and good teeth with which to chew it.

The milking organs consist of the teats, where the milk is secreted, milk veins through which the blood flows from the udder, and milk wells through which the veins enter the body. The udder, in order to be capacious must not only be of large size but it must also have good quality. An udder of large size, distended with fat and flesh may not have as much milk making capacity as a smaller udder of better quality. Having capacity, the udder should be broad and long rather than deep, as a well held up udder is less liable to injury and is easier to milk. In the rear it should be full and wide and attached high between the quarters; it should run well forward up under the body and the forequarters should be as deep as are the rear. The teats should be of convenient size and shape and squarely placed on the quarters.

The Need of Blood.
Large quantities of blood are necessary in the secretion of milk and the more blood there is flowing through the udder, the more there will be available for milk making. Milk veins that are large, crooked and much branched indicate a large flow of blood from the udder. The size and number of milk wells indicate the amount of blood it is possible to carry back into the body from the udder.

While it is impossible to say for a certainty that a cow fulfilling to a high degree the above requirements will be a heavy producer, we can expect as a rule that she will be such if given proper feed and care. On the other hand we can be sure that a cow lacking all or most of these requirements cannot accomplish a production for which she has no capacity or inclination. If we must select cows without knowing their actual production, we can easily distinguish between those likely to be good producers and those whose type precludes the possibility of profitable production. With the exception of the cow that is physically and temperamentally adapted for milk production final proof of producing ability must always rest on actual records made by the use of the milk and the Babcock test.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS ABOUT SOME NOXIOUS WEEDS

No Need to Burn Good Hay in Destroying Canada Thistle.

(By J. T. Barrett, acting chief in Botany.)

Question: I am inclosing flower, part of leaves, and stem of a weed which I take as Canada thistle, but since the burning of several tons of hay depends on this decision I would like to have you classify this plant.

Answer: There is no doubt but the plant submitted is the typical Canada thistle. I remind you, however, that there is no necessity for burning any hay because of the presence of this noxious weed. Perhaps you do not know that Canada thistle does not seed ordinarily, and has not been reported to do so in Illinois. The seed of that region which is included within the upper two tiers of combs and specimens near the lake. There is no danger whatever of distributing the seed with the hay; it would be more important to search for the source of the thistle that occurs in the hay and kill it out where it grows.

Question: Inclosed you will find a plant. I would like for you to state what kind it is, also its use. It grows along the roadside and I notice it has nodules.

Answer: In reply to your letter inclosing plant for determination, I will say that the specimen is Japan clover. It is a very common plant in the southern states, where it is considered a very good forage crop. It is now spreading rapidly throughout the counties of southern Illinois. The scientific name of the plant is "Lespedeza striata."

Question: I have been referred to you to ask your opinion of what would be the best kind of quick growing trees to set out close to a railroad right of way where they would be subject to smoke from locomotives.

Answer: The two kinds of trees which would stand coal smoke best are Alnus and Gynocarpus or plane tree. To these may be added as quite resistant, white or silver poplar (not maple) and black locust. Trees to be especially avoided are maples, catalpas, coniferous evergreens, box alders and lindens.

CONCERNING HASH.

(By Sol E. Quizer.)

The American man likes to see his food before him, each article in its separate dish. We who have married him have tried to train him differently. We have, in the attempt, borrowed chop suey from the Orient, goulash from Hungary, stews from Ireland, and we have told the neighbors joyfully how perfectly delicious they are, so cheap and satisfying and dear John just simply dotes on them! Then comes the day when dear John quits doting and waxes eloquent over his mother's cooking, remarking that he never saw any "blamed mixups" on her table.

Now John is not cruel—he is merely American. The trait is doubtless derived from his beef eating British ancestry, this trait of liking to see his food in hunks, not chopped up into unnameable particles which cast their flavors charitably over one another until all are smothered so that no single one except the unquenchable onion could answer present in a roll call.

Therefore, as hashes, even though glorified, are not mixed with fat, nor by the American, it is not wise to yet them appear upon the table except with unobtrusive infrequency. No one except the married lady who has cultivated insight knows just how often that is and no one needs to tell her. It is enough to say that hashes must be used sparingly to

DEMAND FOR DRAFT HORSES CONTINUES

PRICES AT PROFIT POINT BECAUSE SUPPLY IS LOW.

Auto Truck Has Not Affected Market Conditions—High Priced Farm Animals Related to High Living Cost.

(By Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of The Percheron Society of America.)

The chief country demand is for draft mares, because they can do the farm work, and at the same time, produce colts. Prices on good grade mares from 1500 to 1600 pounds range from $200 to $300 per head. The average for grade mares in foal is from $250 to $285. These prices are high enough to leave a satisfactory profit to the breeder of grade draft geldings and mares.

Drafters Scarce.
The fundamental reason why draft horse prices are at a profitable point is that the supply is unequal to the demand. Less than 20 per cent of all horses reaching Chicago, the greatest horse market in the world, weigh over 1600 pounds. About one-fourth of these are No. 1 drafters. In simple words, only about five per cent of all horses reaching market are of approved draft type, weight and soundness. Another reason; less than one-fourth of the horses on the farms will weigh, at maturity, 1600 pounds or over, and not more than one-third of these are of first-class breeding type, conformation and soundness.

The demand is far in excess of the supply and prices are at a point where satisfactory returns are sure to accrue to the breeder.

City Demand Continues.

The auto truck will not materially affect the market for draft horses. Auto trucks are here to stay. They are extensively used in the city and will be more extensively used in the future, but investigation shows, conclusively that in hauls under three miles, particularly under crowded conditions, the auto truck is less efficient than the horse. The auto truck is supplementing rather than displacing the horse. It is more efficient than draft horses on long hauls and straightway runs to branch houses, distributing points, suburban stores and nearby villages. But experience in Chicago, New York and other cities proves that on short hauls, under a three mile radius, in crowded traffic, the team is the most efficient. Eighty per cent of the traffic in large cities is within a three mile radius. The auto truck will not materially affect the city market for draft horses.

Area Must Eat.

Between 1909 and 1911 the population of the United States increased 21 per cent. During the same time cattle decreased 8 per cent, hogs 7 per cent, sheep 14 per cent. Horses increased, but only 8 per cent. Now, any one acquainted with agricultural conditions knows that a decrease in cattle, sheep and swine means an increase in tilled land. An increase in tilled land means an increased demand for horses. Our population has increased more rapidly than our production of food stuffs. This, combined with the reduction in the production of meat animals, has been one of the most important features in increasing the high cost of living. The high prices received for farm products have focused attention upon increased yield per acre. Land has increased in price. To pay satisfactory returns on investments in farm land, increased yield per acre is absolutely necessary. This increased yield per acre can be obtained by the liberal use of farm manure of fertilizers, or both. An increased yield per acre also requires more thorough plowing, more thorough preparation of the seed bed, more thorough cultivation of farm crops, and higher efficiency in harvesting. Wages have increased, yet help is difficult to obtain on the farms. This condition has rendered necessary the employment of modern farm machinery, which requires less manual labor, but more horse power. All these factors have combined to make necessary the employment of more horses on our farms. Experience has demonstrated that draft horses are much more effective in modern farming methods than light weight horses. In addition, light weight horses are low in price, and the supply is far in excess of the demand. There is therefore no incentive to use light horses on farms, for they are not only less efficient in the farm work, but the surplus cannot be sold at satisfactory prices.

cut the high cost of living. Even women are not honestly fond of them except when self deluded by their zealotness to place the benefits of their husband's salary on the outside of the family rather than on the inside. In a certain college for women the students petitioned the faculty to allow them to omit the blessing upon the meal served Saturday noon on the ground that they had hash then and everything in it had been blessed previously.

It is all very well to cut the cost of living if it can be done without insulting a fundamental instinct of man—the liking to eat. A certain prison recently found by experiment that adult males can be kept alive and hearty at a cost for food of 15 cents per day each. But remember, madam, those adult males were in jail! The point cannot be ignored. Your adult male isn't—which will make a large difference in what he will eat and his table talk concerning the same.

MUSIC CONDITIONS IN UNITED STATES

PURITAN PSALM SINGERS LAID CULTURE FOUNDATION.

Advances Not Equal to Other Vocational Subjects—Unified Work is Needed the Country Over.

(By Dr. C. H. Mills, Director of School of Music, University of Illinois.)

The little band of Puritan pioneers that landed in New England in 1620 placed a ban on music and musical instruments with the exception of the singing of a metrical version of the Psalms of David. Yet this group of Nasal Psalm-singers was the germ out of which our musical culture has grown as it was to descendants 150 years later who made it possible for Lowell, Mason and Tourjee to lay the foundation upon which we have built our superstructure. No one will for a single instant dispute the statement that music stands very differently now from what it did in the days of Mason and Tourjee; the love of music is more general, and there is a more intelligent appreciation of the subject. Music stands higher today in America than it has ever done; it means more to the nation and in its intellectual life as it does in its pleasures and in its religious life there is an immeasurably higher standard.

One Hundred Years Ago.
Compare, also if you will, the number of professional musicians of today with the mere handful of even a century ago; besides, we have some of the finest orchestras in the world—some say we have the finest. Opera is produced in a manner which is not excelled anywhere, and no great artist is satisfied until the stamp of this country's approval has been received; yes, it is true that music now stands in a better position than ever before.

But with all this, we are forced to admit that our advance is not equivalent to that in other educational or vocational subjects. Why? Because our work has not been unified, we have not definitely agreed amongst ourselves as to what constitutes a properly trained musician, and because of this lack of unity, and this indefiniteness of aim, the musician is not, in the life of the nation, considered the equal of other professional men, and we must, therefore, very seriously consider our art, our artists' developments, and body, our aesthetic tastes and all that should go to the making of a skilled musician, so that we may do all we can to raise our profession and to see that future generations of musicians are so much more truly and wisely educated and trained, that our art may gain its true position, and that the professional musician is publicly acknowledged the equal of other professional men and is indignantly admitted to that position of equality with them which is his due.

Fault is Our Own.
We are apt to blame the public (that long-suffering community) for many adverse conditions when in reality the fault lies with us. The public is what we have made it; it takes what we give it and pays for it; in return we have allowed the country to be saddled with a large number of incompetents, teachers and performers—who are wholly incapable of shaping and guiding public taste. Can we, then, turn round and berate the public when we ourselves have not developed in it the power of discernment or can we censure it when it does not discriminate in its support of that which is good, mediocre or poor?

Still we see a large section demanding something better, America has up till now been striving for the supremacy of commerce, and it seems to have succeeded in reaching this eminence. There is as a consequence a feeling permeating the whole country that in life there is something more required than financial and commercial prosperity; therefore, we see signs, and in certain centers they are marked—of the awakening of a desire for education, art and culture.

Associations Are Helping.
The scientific and professional associations have definite requirements for membership with the result that they are wielding an enormous power and influence throughout the country. It is undoubtedly their organization which has made this possible, organization implying the standardization of methods and definiteness of aim; organization which demands education; yes, that is the secret. Education is the basic principle; a complete logical system of education, and it is when we compare the education of the musician with that of other professionals that we are forced—however reluctantly—to admit that the musician is at a disadvantage.

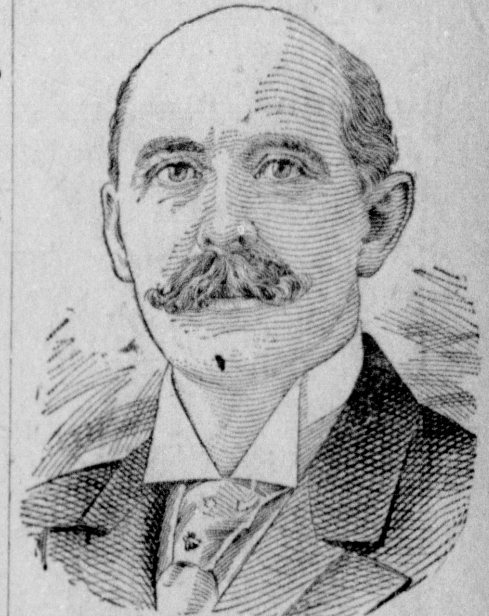

We hope to show in a later article how this condition may be changed.

CONDUCTOR CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER.

Hudson, Wis., May 23.—W. F. Meyer, who has been held on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the wreck on the Omaha road at Baldwin last month, was given a preliminary hearing in court today. Meyer, whose home is in St. Paul, was the conductor of the freight train which collided with a passenger train at Baldwin, causing the death of two men and injuring several others.

Sequel To Love For Doll

Maternal Instinct Greatly Developed by Teaching Children to Love Their Dolls.

The little child's doll is mother to the most romantic fairy. And in the years that pass into the life of a young girl, the doll is a June rose, to evolve the most wonderful of all transformations. And now comes a more serious period when the joy of real motherhood should be as transient as a dream.

This is accomplished with a wonderful remedy known as Mother's Friend, an external application so penetrating in its nature as to work its way into the pores of the body, to the heart, to the brain, to the nerves, to the muscles and tendons involved. There will be no pain, none of that nausea or morning sickness, no sensation of distress, the doll falls into the lap of the mother, too, will be calm, thus making the period one of restful days, of peaceful nights and a source of happiest anticipation. The young, expectant mother must be carefully watched lest she become absorbed in these mental distresses which fly before her for the most important event in her life. Mother's Friend is a strain of expanding mothers. The nerves, too, will be calm, thus making the period one of restful days, of peaceful nights and a source of happiest anticipation. FOR YOUNG GIRLS.

The Balkan Blouse
Dress Is Very Smart.

WAIST LINES HAVE DROPPED AGAIN.

The suit illustrated, designed as a spring costume for the young girl, is in navy blue serge. The distinguishing feature of the suit is the extremely low belt around the hip, which is now so fashionable. The skirt is draped up at one side to show a stylish walking pump.

To give misses' suits a youthful air trimmings of a brighter color than those on suits intended for more mature looking women. The Bulgarian and Chinese colors are being very cleverly used. Sashes, which are seen both on Russian and on Bulgarian blouse suits for girls, are usually in some fancy silk, which imparts a very youthful appearance. Among the bright colors that are fashionable this spring are rose and other soft shades of red, new tans, greens and the Balkan and Copenhagen blues.

Quieting Noisy Boys.

Have you never wished you could think of something to keep those noisy boys quiet Sunday mornings, when nobody but boys think of rising as early as upon other days?

A maiden aunt—always a blessing to any household—has devised this plan: Every Sunday morning when the obstreperous ones awake their eyes rest upon two mysterious packages tied with many strings. After much undoing of knots they find within the big brown paper bags animal crackers, bits of candy, fruit and some pictures for their scrap books or any of the thousand simple things it takes to entertain a child. It takes many minutes to unseal the treasures, and by that time the growings are asstir, having enjoyed their last morning's doze undisturbed.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING.

It does not seem to be likely that Miss Julia Lathrop will be removed from the head of the children's bureau on account of a change in the administration, as many officeholders will remain, among them Charles P. Neill as commissioner of labor, under whose department the bureau will be placed.

Miss Ives Milholland suggests that girls who are incorrigible be sent to a farm or trade school where they could be taught useful industries. It seems almost impossible for them to learn any place else, as, once having had a bad reputation, it clings to a girl, and no employer likes to have such girls associated with the respectable men and women.

In Paris the authors have a woman who sets them right as to the details of the dress of the women they write about. She tells them whether they have used the right words to describe the dress and whether the colors that are fashionable are named. The woman who does this is always anonymous, and no one but herself and the author is aware of her existence.

The Texas legislature adopted the bill that will give women the same property rights as men by a vote of seventy-four to forty-three, notwithstanding the fact that a few minutes before the house had rung with applause of the speech of Mr. Bagby, in which he begged that the old chivalrous idea that the southern man protects his wife be not abandoned and the wife become little more than mistress in the household. Mrs. Hortense Ward of Houston, who had worked for the bill, grew anxious when she heard the applause that greeted the pretty sentiment, but the vote proved that it was for the eloquence rather than the plea.

(By S. W. Nichols)
Manila, Philippine Islands.

Dear Journal:
Here we are about as near the equator as I ever expect to be, and I am not at all anxious to prolong our stay indefinitely, for the heat is great. We left Japan in winter overcoats and in four days were in the land of perpetual summer, where bananas flourish, the luscious papai grows abundantly and the signs of the tropics are on everything.

Our journey from Nagasaki was uneventful except that it was with a smooth sea in a region of very rough water at times. Some of the Journal readers will remember J. A. Chalm, who lived with his mother on the southwest corner of Prairie and West College streets, and afterward went to Denver and was in business with S. B. Hardy. He and his wife were touring somewhere in this region when the ship went down with all on board, and was a total loss.

The islands appear long before we reach this place and some of them have a beautiful aspect with terraced hills, romantic rocks and general beauty and grandeur, while others are desolate and unattractive. We passed up the bay at Cavite, or near it, and viewed the famous locality of Dewey's engagement when he put the Spanish fleet out of commission. It is a fine locality and romantic as well as beautiful and now the scene of busy activity.

Manila is peculiarly a place where the orient and the occident, the past and the present, jostle each other constantly and of course the occident or modern gets the supremacy. The city is a queer conglomeration of the old and the new. Here will be an aged church or cathedral and there a modern structure, and the old seems to be restless and asks what it is all about anyhow and why the peaceful slumbers of centuries have been rudely awakened by the sound of hammer and saw and building tools and builders.

Like so many other foreign places the busy streets present a constant kaleidoscope of never-ending interest. The gay carriage is met by the drayman driving with ropes his carabao, or mouse colored water ox, which is patiently trudging along, drawing a load such as would make a horse put himself right lively to the burden. They have the same awkward contrivance used in Japan, a crooked stick on the neck in front of the shoulders and to each end of this ropes are attached running back to the dray. The streets are so nearly level there is little or no holding back to do, and so they get along very well. Ropes attached to a ring through the nose or about the nose are used by the driver to guide the patient animals and the driver almost always rides. The oxen have great horns in all shapes and look fierce, but are not so. They are especially fond of the water and when unhitched at night make a bee line for the river and wallow, with only their noses sticking out of the water. They are surely strange creatures; they are practically devoid of hair, are sturdy and a great oddity to one from the states.

In their native state they are wild and often fierce and having such long horns they are capable of doing great damage. It is said that more than once they have made a man scale a tree in great haste to escape their fury. They are well tamed though when at work and no one would ever think of their doing any harm.

Excepting the great wall of China, the walls of Manila are as full of interest as any similar structure on earth. The oldest piece of construction under our flag is Fort Santiago and it is a well constructed piece of work, doing credit to the engineers in charge. The city of Manila proper covers something over a dozen square miles. But the old time city is contained within the wall that was built long ago. An enthusiastic writer says:

"If there is any worth in broad days and graceful palms, gorgeous sunsets and fair vistas of silhouetted masts against the sky, if any interest in walls and temples, broken ruins of dungeon vaults, faded relics and pages printed in 1545; if these and a hundred others are worth anything that speak out as voices from the dead past, the Intramuros is rich and every life that learns to know her will have received an added value in that inner treasure house where things cannot break through and steal."

The walls that surround the old town are two and three-fourth miles in length and are moss covered and aged with history that can never be written, for in so many cases no records were kept of passing events. The first wall was built in 1570, of hewn logs, and was made none too strong, for four years later came an attack by a Chinese pirate, who had two thousand soldiers, and led by a Japanese general. The Chinese made a fierce attack and were at first victorious, but the Spanish rallied and drove them off. They went to Panagasinan and set up a government on a small scale, but they were cruel and mean toward the natives and they were attacked by a strong force of Spaniards, who tried to trap them in the mouth of the river, but by night the Chinese dug a canal and escaped.

Fort Santiago.

One of the especially historic objects of this place is Fort Santiago. It is located at the mouth of the river passing by the city and is full of romance and history. The first account of the island was by a seafaring man about 1150 and he reported the discovery of certain islands inhabited by peaceful people, though not long after that came accounts of Salu pirates and bloody marauders who lived by plundering others. It was in 1521 that Magellan discovered the islands and he then found people who knew how to fight and when he ventured too boldly, relying on his superior arms and skill, he lost his life.

Urdanetas had trouble in keeping the peace with the natives of the island of Cebu and report came to him of a large island called Luzon, the one on which Manila stands, and of a sturdy people, a great bay and many other things which excited his interest and curiosity. In 1570 Captain Martin de Getti and Juan de Salcedo arrived off the bay of Manila and found the people had erected a strong wooden palisade at the mouth of the river Pasig and had mounted on it twelve bronze cannon of native manufacture. Here it was that a Mohammedan rajah had gathered a group of natives and taught them how to fight and fortify their position. It was in this spot that Fort Santiago was erected and as has truly been said: "What the vatican is to Rome, the tower to London, Bunker Hill monument to Boston, Fort Santiago is to the Philippine Islands."

Rajah Soliman rallied his barbaric forces when the intruding white man showed fight but was overpowered after a brave defense against the besiegers, who captured the place, set fire to the town and did all the mischief generally that was in their power. A treaty in blood was made and the expedition returned to Cebu. In 1571 Legaspi heard of the fine location of the fort and made haste to take the place, but found the people had set fire to their houses and fled. He made terms with the commanding rajah and began the founding of the city of Manila. He began improving the wall and reinforcing it with earth and palisades, but when a new governor, Santiago, arrived he would have none of the earth fort, but ordered it all removed and began the construction of the fort that bears his name. Since that time the fort has undergone all sorts of vicissitudes and is yet a leading landmark of the place. When Dewey annihilated the Spanish fleet and General Merritt entered the inner quadrangle to sign the articles of capitulation there was no building of any sort on the wall, but it was defended and supplied with the best artillery the place afforded. When the civil government was established in 1891 the use of the fort as a place of defense was abandoned and it is now used as headquarters for the Philippine division of the United States army. In the old time pay roll are things which seem curious today. The warden must have been an important person, as he received 60 pesos a month; the lieutenants put up with 15, the sergeants

3, the Spanish soldiers with 2 and the native soldiers had a peso and a quarter a month, making the total payroll of the fort for a year 4,600 pesos, or about $2,300.

There are stories in the church records of the visitations of saints who failed to be satisfied with their quarters after leaving this world. There are also many rumors connected with the place about underground passages, secret vaults, places where prisoners were placed in dungeons below the level of the rivers, whose waters were permitted to enter and do away with many annoying persons. It is claimed that there are yet very old persons in and about the city who know about these things, but no one has ever yet been able to induce them to tell anything. The fort is made famous though by the surrender and subsequent events of 1898. It was in the city on August 13th, that Gen. Merritt made the preliminary agreement with the Spanish commander regarding the capitulation of the great citadel. The American troops were in the city and the insurgents were disgruntled because they had not been placed on an equality with the others. The people inside were quaking with terror, for they had heard in the past how conquering troops had treated their captured persons and expected to be burned out, possibly themselves burned alive and all they had confiscated. For a week all held their breath, expecting each moment to be their last, and when they learned there was to be no plunder, no bloodshed and no revenge they were astonished beyond measure and had high words of praise for their magnanimous conquerors and like many others who had been treated too well they are in far too many instances today ready to smite the hand that has so often been lifted in their defense and has shown them so many favors.

A Curious Old Organ.

As is well known, the people of Spain and their provinces are adherents to the Roman Catholic church and the city and country about possess many interesting structures and relics of the past. In 1762 Diego Cero was born in Spain and when a child began to show great interest in anything mechanical. He was made a priest and also learned how to make organs. In 1790 he came to the Philippines and served a church as priest and also organ builder. Naturally one will ask what on earth could he find in such a place for the construction of a regular pipe organ. It is doubtless true that the task would have appalled almost any one, but the good padre went to work to see what he could find for his purpose.

The pious priest was determined that his people should worship their Creator with suitable instruments, and he set to work to bring it about, and so in a place some ten miles from Manila is a pipe organ built of bamboo. A visitor to the place says in brief:

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Ziegfeld has added Jose Collins and Nat Willis to his new Follies. Viola Allen has gone to Europe for a stay of six or eight weeks.

Lucille LaVerne is doing well with a stock company in Richmond, Va. "A Good Little Devil" is to be reproduced in moving pictures shortly. "The Sho-Gun," by George Ade, is to be given in Paris at an early date.

John Mason is to make a tour of the Pacific coast in "As a Man Thinks."

It is said Mrs. Leslie Carter is going into vaudeville next season in a new playlet.

Fiske O'Hara will star next season in a play called "Old Dublin Bay," by Augustus Pitou, Jr.

A western dramatist is to write a play for Digby Bell, in which the latter will star next season.

The de Koven Opera company is to follow its revival of "Robin Hood" by that composer's "Rob Roy."

George V. Hobart will write the book and lyrics of the next Follies show, and Raymond Hubbard will compose the music.

The condition of Otis Skinner, who was operated on for mastoiditis, is improving and his physician looks for a complete recovery.

Cohan and Harris have changed the name of the new Winchell Smith comedy from "The Amateur Detective" to "Washington Square."

Frank Moulin is to have the leading comedy role in "My Little Friend," by Oscar Strauss, under the direction of Fred C. Whitney.

Next season Grace George will revive several of her successes, if her husband-manager, W. A. Brady, cannot find a suitable new play for her.

In the revival of "A Texas Steer," made by W. A. Brady and Harry Askin, Alice Brady, daughter of the manager, will play the role of Bossy.

Anna Held will star in this country under the management of John Cort, who will present her at the head of a big vaudeville combination.

Winthrop Ames has accepted for production at his Little Theatre, in New York city, a serious play by Mark Swan, entitled "Her Own Money."

Mlle. Polaire, advertised at the ugliest woman in Paris, is to make another visit to this country in "The Red Veil," under the management of Morris Gest.

Anna Pavlova, the Russian dancer, has bought the historic place, Ivy House, Hempstead Heath, in England. She has also a beautiful home in St. Petersburg.

Elizabeth Murray has been engaged for the leading feminine role in "High Jinks," the new musical farce by Otto Hauserbach and Rudol. Friml, to be produced by Arthur Hammerstein.

A STRONG REFERENCE.
A young man recently applied for a position with a large printing house, and not having a letter of reference, offered his bank book. It showed a regularity of entries of deposit. It was a very strong recommendation, indicating character and persistence, which finally secured for him a good position.

Surpassed by His Message to Drinking Men.

We predict that Mr. Hubbard's latest book will give him greater fame and have a larger circulation than his famous "Message to Garcia." In his gifted way he tells the pathetic story of a friend's long and hard fight against the Demon Alcohol, and the beautiful story of his rescue and restoration to his family at the end of three days' treatment by Doctor Neal's modern scientific methods, now used in 60 principal cities in the United States and foreign countries.

A copy of this book with full information will be sent free to all who call, write or phone the Neal Institute, Springfield, Ill., Laurel Ave. and Country Club Road. Phone Main 6868 or Chicago, Ill. No. 811 E. 49th St., phone Oakland 439 or Auto. 72-099.

RECEPTION AND DINNER IN HONOR OF MISS OLDFIELD

Vocal Teacher to Leave Conservatory is Given Farewell Party at Peacock Inn—Pupils Present Her Beautiful Gold Watch.

Friday evening at Peacock Inn, a dinner and reception was given in honor of Miss Frances Elizabeth Oldfield.

The affair was a complete surprise to her; she having been invited by one of her pupils to take dinner at the Inn. On going up stairs she entered an elaborate reception hall, made so by the use of numerous potted plants and flowers. About thirty five of her pupils and friends received her. The colors pink and canary were used on a long table, plates being laid for the entire number. The hand tinted place cards were in the shape of wishbones, horseshoes and clovers.

The first part of the evening was devoted to the dinner and toasts were responded to by Miss Jeanette Reed, Miss Esther Spoon, Miss Vira George and Mrs. Thomas Harber with Fenton R. Mathews, acting as toastmaster.

After the toasts William Kirby made the presentation speech and told of the pupils' appreciation for Miss Oldfield's work and how they had chosen to remember her in a small way. He thereupon presented Miss Oldfield a beautiful gold watch, with her name and date engraved.

While all present had a delightful evening, yet there was a feeling of deep regret and keen disappointment that Miss Oldfield could not continue her work here next year. She has worked hard and faithfully with her pupils and sacrificed in a measure for their betterment. She has endeavored herself to them by her generous and unselfish attitude.

The friends present showed a keen appreciation of the affair and never was there a gathering that displayed the spirit of the evening to a better advantage. It was a splendid success in every respect. Some mention is due to Miss Ernel Kimbel, Miss Garnet Kingsley and Mrs. Thos. Harber for their efforts in making the affair such a decided success.

Very Remarkable Cure of Liver Complaint.

Mr. Albert Walker, of Proctor's W. Va., suffered intense pain in the stomach and right side at intervals for fifteen years. He had consulted eight or ten physicians and while they all agreed that he had liver trouble, they failed to relieve him. He was eventually cured by Chamberlain's Tablets. If you have any trouble with your stomach or liver, these tablets will certainly do you good. For sale by all dealers.

WILL REFUSE LIQUOR

Mobile, Ala., May 23.—Information has been given out that a ruling has been made by President Milton H. Smith of the Louisville & Nashville that the road will hereafter absolutely refuse to accept liquor shipments from wet territory into dry territory, regardless of the quantity of the shipments desired, so as to conform with the Webb anti-shipment bill.

VOLUME OF BUSINESS CONTINUES FAVORABLE

WEST IS PRESUMABLY BUOYED BY WHEAT CROP PROSPECTS

Manufacturers and Merchants Still Pursue Conservative Policy in Termination of Tariff Uncertainty.

New York, May 23.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"It is difficult to find a keynote that will at once characterize trade trends the country over, but, by and large, business continues favorable, the western situation in this respect being almost antithetical to the depression prevailing in the east. Presumably the west is buoyed by sanguine wheat crop prospects and in that section of the country there does not appear to be much apprehension as regards unfavorable consequences from tariff revisions.

Money is active for commercial and industrial uses and rates are somewhat easier. Collections, do not improve much and all in all they do not appear to be above fair.

"Business failures for the week ending May 22nd, were 265, which compares with 218 in the like week of 1912.

"Wheat including flour exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending May 22nd aggregate 6,471,046 bushels against 15,969,613 bushels this week last year."

Dun's Trade Review.

Dun's Review will say tomorrow: "The volume of business in nearly all branches of trade and industry continues large but it is mostly to meet immediate needs. Confidence is sustained by the prospect of big crops but manufacturers and merchants still pursue a conservative policy pending the termination of tariff uncertainty. Since the trade as exists is chiefly for the absence of new orders for future delivery.

"Mercantile and industrial conditions are strengthening by the absence of large stocks and the financial situation is made more secure. While cold weather has served to delay planting in some sections crop conditions for both spring wheat and corn are, in the main, very auspicious and cotton shows improvement.

This serves to make business sentiment in the west and south very cheerful.

"The iron and steel mills continue fully occupied in filling old orders but there has been a sharp falling off in the volume of new business.

"Commercial failures this week in the United States are 265 against 241 the corresponding week last year.

"Failures in Canada number 33 against 19 last year."

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, May 23.—Bradstreet's bank clearings report for the week ending May 22nd, shows an aggregate of $3,160,076,000 as against $3,156,174,000 last week and $3,322,091,000 in the corresponding week last year.

CORNELL-HARVARD BOAT RACE.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 23.—The long-kept plan of running an observation train for the accommodation of the spectators will be tried here for the first time tomorrow on the occasion of the Harvard-Cornell boat race. The two varsity crews showed splendid form in their final practice spins on Lake Cayuga today and unless all signs go astray the big race will be a close and interesting contest.

Headache? Its' Your Liver

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic Is Needed

Try Olive Tablets—The Substitute for Calomel

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver or bowels, will never have headache.

There is no necessity when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headaches, etc.

Dr. Edwards' calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.
The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

About 8,000,000 men are employed in regular occupations in Great Britain.

In 1912 the total number of strikes and lockouts in Canada was reported as 148.

Actual construction will soon begin upon a six story labor temple in Cleveland, Ohio, to cost $60,000.

The union of boilermakers in England has, by a referendum vote, decided to withdraw from the Labor party.

The labor unions of Houston, Tex., have subscribed over $500 toward the establishment of a tubercular clinic in that city.

The carpenters, electrical workers and other unions in Galveston, Tex., have taken steps to form a building trades council.

Thirty-two bills were introduced into the state legislature of New York for the purpose of effecting a reorganization of the state bureau of labor.

It is estimated that work will be supplied for skilled laborers in Ohio, Nebraska and Indiana for the next five years as a result of the recent floods. In Nebraska the greatest damage was done by tornadoes and windstorms.

There is no reason for bridge and structural iron workers to be out of work this summer, according to officers of the International union. The large number of new bridges to be built will furnish employment for all the men available.

A general council composed of representatives of welfare organizations has been formed in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Frederick Schoof, of Philadelphia, is president; Mrs. John Hays Hammond, vice-president, and Mrs. C. H. Shelton, of Washington, secretary.

Last year the Italian government gave official notice to its female employees in the telephone service that they should not marry under the age of 28 years. Recently a new order has been announced that no married women need solicit admission into the service.

At Winnipeg, Manit., a labor representation committee has been formed for the purpose of securing labor representation upon all public bodies for the purpose of organizing the working class into one consolidated political body. W. B. Simpson was elected chairman.

Labor Commissioner Powers of Michigan reports that of the 50,000 persons by which the number of employees in manufacturing establishments was increased in 1912, only 508 were children between 14 and 16 years of age. This is said to be due to the employers' liability law and effective inspection.

The 90,000 members of the Bricklayers' and Stonemasons' International union are preparing to vote on the question of affiliating with the American Federation of Labor. It is said that other trades have been gradually encroaching on the trade of the bricklayers and they decided to join the federation for self protection.

During the past year there has been a considerable falling off in the number of strikes in France. There were 1,471 strikes in all, involving 230,646 strikers, employed by 16,048 different firms and corporations. The total number of days lost amounted to no less than 4,096,793, compared with about 5,000,000 during the previous year. Of these strikes 261 were successful, 529 partially successful, 681 failed entirely, and only 21 lasted more than 100 days.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Jacksonville Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Jacksonville citizen says:

Mrs. Dora E. Price, Plum St., Jacksonville, Ill., says: "A few months ago I was attacked by pain across the small of my back and some time after an attack of La Grippe affected my kidneys. The kidney secretions became unnatural, causing me much annoyance. I had often heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and resolving to try them, I procured a supply at Armstrong's Drug Store. Soon after I began using them the pain disappeared and my kidneys were restored to a normal condition. I willingly allow my name to be used in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agent for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Two-Reel Feature Picture

"The Toll of Fear," in which the well known actor, Romaine Fielding, appears as "The Two Brothers."

Dick McKnight, a deputy sheriff of Santa Cruz County, Arizona, receives a telephone message from Sheriff Wheeler, of an adjoining county, that Pedro Aquilla and his band of cattle rustlers and outlaws are in Santa Luis canyon. His brother Bill, the sheriff, being away, the young deputy determines to go out alone and corral some of the gang. He leaves a note for his brother and starts upon his mission. After getting into the mountains he runs across a note fastened to a tree, which reads: "Go back, or you die with the sun." The story tells of the result of the deadly fear which seizes him.

His brother Bill, the sheriff of Santa Cruz County, coming home after a hard ride, finds the note the youngster has left him, and knowing the difficult task that Dick has taken upon himself, he determines to follow his brother. That which follows is of awful dramatic interest.

BANK

Cities in every state of the union are using the motion pictures, and it shows that Jacksonville is up and coming when local interest has shown that we do not want Jacksonville to be a back number in this regard.

Here are a few experts from a clipping handed the secretary by a local gentleman, who cut it out of a Kansas City paper dated May 21. "Kansas City" in "four phases" of it activities is to be taken under the auspices of the Commercial Club as an innovation in city advertising. In the climax of the pictures a May Fete will be staged at Swope Park with possibly thirty-thousand school children before the camera. The Advance Motion Picture Company (the same which is making films for Jacksonville) will begin work Saturday. There will be four reels made.

The first reel will present the manufacturing, jobbing and retail activities; the second film, will picture the new station and show the transportation facilities of the city. The city's famous park and boulevards will be brought before the camera when the Sunday motor traffic is passing. The films will be later shown at the Convention Hall under the title "Know Your City." One set of the films will become the property of the Commercial Club and will be used in future advertising.

"A commercial club's representative when seeking to induce a manufacturer to move to Kansas City will have him as a guest at a private showing of the industrial reel at some picture theatre."

Mrs. G. H. Forsee of the convention and publicity division of the Commercial Club had charge of closing the contract with the company. The above paragraphs show what other Commercial clubs are doing in the way of advertising their city by the moving picture medium. The Chamber of Commerce of Jacksonville should appreciate what Mr. Hunt is doing and encourage more work to be done in this kind of advertising.

The films which are being made of our schools and colleges will advertise them in a way which would cost them hundreds of dollars if they were doing it for themselves. Not only will our schools appear the pictures but out industries, business houses, and a great many of Jacksonville's beautiful homes.

Places pictured yesterday when Mr. A. C. Bushcott producer of the Advance Motion Picture Company was rushed from place to place by automobile in order to complete the program which had been arranged for him.

Pictures were taken of the following places, the High School which included the color rush in the afternoon; the Fourth Ward School; Illinois Woman's College; Passavant Hospital; a monstrous auto parade; the Illinois Steel Bridge Co.; C. P. & St. L. shops; Rount College; School for the Blind; School for the Deaf; Illinois College; Wm. J. Bryan's former residence and number of other residences.

All these exhausted the thousand feet of film which were on hands and telegrams have been sent ordering another thousand feet. These should be here in the morning and if the arrive the following program will be carried out, as far as it is possible.

WHAT THE BOOSTERS SUCCESSFULLY DID.

The dreams of all the live boosters in Jacksonville to have their home city advertised by pictures over the whole country has been realized this week. Through the enterprise of Mr. Hunt, manager of the Grand Opera house, the Advance Moving Picture company has been taking hundreds of feet of the most important public buildings, industries and historic places in this city.

These pictures will not only aid our school children and citizens to know more about their own city but it will create within their breasts a civic pride for their "Own Jacksonville" that will make them good live boosters. A great deal of interest has been shown in this successful method for advertising our beautiful city, and it will be worth much to the business interests of the city.

The Boosters' club have talked of having moving pictures made of Jacksonville but they did not have the capital to invest in such an expensive undertaking. They started the agitation by having four reels sent here from Baltimore and shown in Mr. Luttrell's theatre. These films showed the possibilities of this great way in advertising and soon Jacksonville can boast of two thousand feet of films and perhaps more.

While this moving picture man is here, the secretary thinks there should be made commercial films, advertising some of our business firms, which the present films do not include.

We could have such a film made at this time at a much smaller cost, because the expense of bringing another picture man here at any other time would be eliminated. While we have local interest aroused, we should not let this opportunity for picturing every important place in the whole city, slip by.

MORTUARY

Souza.

Funeral services for Jewel Lucille Souza, daughter of Henry and Emma Souza, were held at the late residence east of the city Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. W. E. Spooner, pastor of Northminster Presbyterian church. The services were largely attended and the flowers, which were many and beautiful, were cared for by Mrs. Royal Souza, Miss Mollie DeFrate and Mrs. John Day. Interment was made in Jacksonville cemetery.

Reick.

Funeral services for John W. Reick were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the German Methodist church, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. At the house a scripture reading and prayer was given by Rev. Mr. Burnett of Lynnville and the services at the church were in charge of the pastor, Rev. E. Gruenewald. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Rev. and Mrs. F. Gruenewald, Miss Meta Gruenewald and W. W. Gilliam and the flowers were in charge of Miss Mary Fearneyhough, Mrs. Charles Hamel and Miss Marie Foster.

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were Chris German, Charles German, Louis Wahl, Louis Fearneyhough, Walter Fearneyhough and Oliver Angelo.

MANY AUTOISTS IN PARADE.

The auto parade Friday morning for the Jacksonville pictures was a very creditable affair. While the time for the parade had not been announced far in advance there was a goodly representation of the auto owners of Jacksonville in line. They formed on East State street and drove around the north side of the square, turned south and passed the film artist who was stationed near the Ayers National bank. It was impossible to get the names of all the car owners in line but among the number were William Newman, J. F. Claus, D. Estaque, Frank Wilson, Harold Gay, Dr. A. M. King, C. N. Priest, John R. Robertson, Robert Cassell, Carlton Hook, Frank Byrns, John Vieira, John S. Hackett, L. F. O'Donnell, T. P. Calhoun, Dr. C. C. Schermerhorn, C. L. Ranson, Dr. Patchen, O. W. Lake, W. L. Fay, William Deutsch, Edward W. Brown, Henry Edelbrock, Emmet Miller, T. H. Buckthorpe, H. M. and G. B. Andre, two autos and truck, F. L. Hairgrove, George, J. T. Hoffman, Peacock Inn, T. B. Orear, E. E. Crabtree, J. A. Obermeyer. Among motorcycleists were A. R. Myrick, Richard Vasey, Howard Jameson and J. C. Walsh. E. C. Roach and W. M. Brenta were among the bicyclists.

CHANDLERVILLE VISITORS.

Cass County K. of P. Members Visit Local Lodge.

Members of K. of P. lodge No. 152 received a visit last night from ten members of the Valley K. of P. lodge of Chandlerville. Those coming over via automobiles were W. A. McNeal, C. J. H. S. Leefer, William McDonald, W. S. Leeper, N. W. Millen, A. W. Morris and Archibald Lintner. R. C. Staley, E. C. Trowbridge and E. O. Spink. The degree of Knight was conferred upon Capt. Linder. The Chandlerville members assisted in the work which was followed by the serving of light refreshments. A short time was given over to speech making. Frank Byrns acting in the capacity of toastmaster. The visit of the Chandlerville lodge came through the invitation of District Deputy L. B. Turner. The local lodge expects to return the visit.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN SENIORS.

The juniors of the Murrayville high school gave their annual party in honor of the seniors at that place Friday evening and in addition to the members of the two classes the parents of the pupils and former students of the school were in attendance. A large number was present and while no formal program had been arranged for the occasion a delightful social evening was spent when refreshments were served.

W. E. Crane of St. Louis is in the city to attend a meeting of the directors of the Illinois Steel Bridge company, which is to be held today.

MRS. VIRDEN WAGSTAFF HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM INJURY

Buggy in Which She Was Driving Struck by Train on an Alton Crossing South of Murrayville.

Mrs. Virden Wagstaff, living on a farm south of Murrayville, had a narrow escape from serious injury or death Friday morning as she was crossing the C. & A. track between Murrayville and Manchester. She failed to hear the passenger train which goes south from Murrayville at 10:02 o'clock until she was so close to the tracks that she could not turn back and although she whipped up the horse, the engine struck the rear wheel of the buggy. Mrs. Wagstaff was thrown out and while she was somewhat bruised and her clothing torn she was not injured. The buggy was a bad wreck and it seems almost a miracle that Mrs. Wagstaff was not seriously hurt.

RAYMOND DRAWS

LARGE CROWD
That the Great Raymond, conjurer, has made a decided "hit" with local people, was shown on the occasion of his fifth consecutive performance at the Grand opera house Friday evening, when he was greeted with a crowded house. A change of program was announced for last night and the performance was mystifying from beginning to end, and the magician kept his auditors wondering what seemingly impossible feat he would perform next. At one time he had six local young men on the stage to examine his paraphernalia and to assist him and closed the evening's performance with a number that brought forth extended applause, when a woman escaped from a trunk after being handcuffed, tied and sealed in a bag and the trunk locked and roped. Mr. Raymond taking her place, wearing the same coat, handcuffs and being sealed, tied in the bag and locked in the trunk from which she escaped.

BOYS CONFESS TO HOLDUP AND CONCORD BURGLARY

State's Attorney Tilton Signed Statement—All Bound Over to Grand Jury.

Signed confessions of William Hale, Lloyd Decker and Howard Kelley were secured by State's Attorney Tilton Friday and the boys, including Clarence Yost, who did not sign the statement, were placed under $1,000 each to await action of the grand jury on charge of highway robbery and burglary. In default of bonds the boys were placed in the county jail.

Hale, Decker and Yost are held in connection with the hold-up of Miss Harriet Andre and Miss Emma Doying on Diamond Court street some two weeks ago, and although Yost asserts that he decided to get out of the affair and left the others just as they entered Diamond Court the two boys have implicated him in the hold up, alleging that he was within twenty feet of them when the women were robbed.

Kelley, Hale and Decker are held in connection with the Concord burglary which took place the night following the robbery.

All of the boys were arrested and Chief of Police Davis and Sheriff Rogers, after questioning them, secured a statement from them. States Attorney Tilton and Henry English, official court stenographer, went to the city prison Friday and secured a signed statement from all of the boys, excepting Yost who claims he was not in either case. Hale did most of the talking and the other two signed the statement with him.

Hale, Decker and Yost were arraigned before Squire Dyer Friday and were sent to the county jail in default of $1,000 bond each on a charge of hold-up. Kelley, with Hale and Decker were also arraigned on a charge of robbery and their bonds were fixed at $1,000 on this charge. As the next session of the grand jury is not held until November it is possible that a special grand jury will be called to hear the cases.

JUSTICE COURTS.

In Squire Dyer's court "Swift" Turner was given sixty days in jail on a vagrancy charge. Turner was released from prison Thursday and immediately went over to Azenville where it is alleged he bought a gallon of whiskey and then came here and consumed most of it in one day.

JUSTICE COURTS.

Daniel Overstreet and Clinton Mitchell were each fined $3 and costs in Squire Dyer's court Friday on a charge of drunkenness.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

Born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Souza of 603 Allen avenue, an eight pound daughter.

WABASH ISSUES NEW TIME CARD EFFECTIVE SUNDAY, JUNE FIRST

Several Changes Will Be Made in Time of Local Passenger Trains.

Traffic officials of the Wabash railroad company have issued a new time card, which will go into effect Sunday, June 1, and which will make several changes in the time of Jacksonville passenger trains.

The east bound passenger train, which passes through the city now at 8:23 p. m., will be changed to 9:44 p. m., making Chicago connections only. West bound passenger now going through here at 1:20 a. m., will continue on the present schedule and east bound passenger due here at 6:19 will be changed to 6:30 p. m. Both of these trains will run between Hannibal and Decatur instead of Hannibal and Springfield, as heretofore, and the 6:30 p. m. train will make all eastern connections for Toledo, Detroit, Buffalo and New York. According to the new schedule both these trains will run daily including Sunday.

No. 9, west bound passenger leaving this city at 2:02 p. m. will be changed to 1:20 p. m., and the west bound passenger going through this city at 5:15 p. m., will be changed to 5:10. East bound passenger No. 28, leaving here now at 1:48 a. m., will be changed to 1:36 a. m. West bound passenger passing through Jacksonville at 7:19 a. m., and east bound passenger leaving here at 8:28 a. m., will continue the same as the present schedule.

Knoles clothing always reliable.

EASTERN DELEGATION

SPENDS BUSY DAY

Take "Short Horn" Course at Wisconsin Agricultural College and Attend Lectures.

Madison, Wis., May 23.—Mayor Rudolph Blankenburg of Philadelphia and the other of the eastern delegation here to study educational methods were busy to day. During the morning they took a "short horn" course at the state agricultural college and heard Prof. R. A. Moore tell how boys are kept on the farm by showing them how to make so much money that they will not leave.

When agricultural students demonstrated the right and wrong ways of milking, Mayor Blankenburg led in giving three cheers for the professor, the milkers and the cow.

Prof. Moore told of the development of pure bred grains, the demand for winter grown seeds all over the world and the story of how farmer boys who came to the university a few years ago are now laying up large profits.

Prof. H. C. Taylor discussed marketing problems and Prof. E. H. Farrington described the work of the dairy school.

OXYGEN MACHINE

SAVES ONE LIFE

Herrin, Ill., May 23.—One life was lost and another saved only by the use of an oxygen machine in a fire which broke out yesterday afternoon and is still raging in the mine of the Illinois Hocking Valley washed Coal company. The state rescue car was called from Benton to aid in the rescue of the two miners entrapped by the flames. They were taken from the mine unconscious this afternoon. Ed Duncan, 40 years old, died a short time after being taken out. His brother John, 20 years old, was restored to consciousness. The fire is believed to have started in the mule stable where even animals were burned to death.

EIGHTH GRADE PUPILS

GIVE PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

Students Also Heard in Class Day Exercises and Year's Work Closes Auspiciously.

The work of the eighth grade, under the supervision of Miss Laura White, the capable principal came to a close Friday. In anticipation of flag day which is June 14, the students gave a patriotic program, which was followed by brief class day exercises. This class, which numbers seventy-five students will enter the freshmen class of the high school next.

The following was the patriotic program which was given under the direction of Miss Anna English:

Piano solo—Taran Telle, A Minor
Dance—Catherine Rapp.
Talk, "Flag Day"—Margaret Read.

"Facts About Flags"—By Nine pupils, Dorothy Chipchase, Beulah McMurphy, George Teasley, Wilbur Rogers, Clarence Furr, Hazel Busby, Virginia Whitley, Gladys Sargent and Louise Robinson.

Violin solo, "Polonaise," Wieniawski—Earl Briscoe.

Talk, "Proposed arrangement for stars in American flag"—John Badger.

Recitation, "Our Flag"—Eloise Capps.

Piano solo, "Idle Hour"—Lecie Wyatt, Lucile Henry.

Recitation, "My Young American"—Otto Phelps.

Recitation, "The Story of Betsy Ross"—Opal Marshall.

Duet, Baritone and Clarinet—Leonard Potter and Wilbur Rogers.

Class Day Exercises.
The following were the class day exercises:

"Our year in the eighth grade"—Isabel Woodman.

Paper, "The Outlook for Your Future"—(1) Frances Oppenheimer; (2) Margaret Irving.

Vocal solo, "The Nightingale and Rose," Park—Helen Smith, Miss Ellen McCurley, accompanist.

It was brought out in the exercises that the eighth grade students have been quite active in high school matters during the past year. They won the prize for securing the largest number of subscribers for the high school Nautlius. They also have five members in the high school band and four in the glee club.

Our 30c coffee is sure a fine drinker. Claus Tea Co.

HIGH SCHOOL CLOSSES.

The junior class colors, yellow and black may be seen floating from the flag staff of the high school building.

The colors are also in evidence throughout the building. The regular exercises closed Friday and the reports will be sent out within a short time. The coming week will close the activities of the school, graduation day being Thursday. Rev. J. W. Miller will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at Grace church Sunday morning.
